Congress Hurrying to Finish Necessary Legislation Before Noon Today

SHIP PURCHASE BILL DEAD

Rural Credits, Philippine Independence and Leasing Measures Die

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Sixty-third congress tonight strenuously worked its way toward its end at noon tomorrow.

Weary and worn senators and representatives pressed on under the eyes of hundreds of spectators, who crowded the galleries of both house and senate chambers and overflowed into the corridors. Both branches handled a flood of bills, resolutions and conference reports, in a desperate effort to pass all necessary legislation before adjournment. The sessions, which began early today, promised to be practically continuous until the end.

In the fading hours of the session there died with a final struggle the government ship purchase bill, the object of the most determined filibuster ever undertaken in congress, and of opposition, which, begun by Republican senators, extended into the Democratic ranks and precipitated a revolt that aided in the obstruction of much important legislation urged by President Wilson and administration leaders.

Soon after this measure had been shunted into the discard for the session, the rural credit legislation, which at the eleventh hour had been attached to the agricultural appropriation bill, also was abandoned because of impossibility of agreement on the part of senate and house conferees.

Kill Several Bills.

Other important measures which at a late hour tonight seemed doomed were the bill to enlarge the measure of self-government for the Philippines and giving promise of ultimate independence, and the water power and mineral land leasing measures, so vigorously urged by President Wilson at the beginning of congress.

[illegible] two of the big appropriations which in all aggregate approximately $1,000,000,000, had been disposed of, only the Indian and postoffice bills remaining in conference as midnight approached.

Conferees on the Indian bill reported progress, but threats of a filibuster were made by several senators should the conference report prove unsatisfactory.

Confusion, disorder and noise were the chief characteristics of the final legislative spurt in the house. A large attendance of members and a larger throng of spectators kept up a constant hum of conversation that at times grew to a roar. It was hushed now and then by the frantic efforts of Speaker Clark, who pounded his desk with the gavel, admonishing the members on the floor and roundly lectured the galleries in a vain endeavor to preserve a semblance of order.

On the floor there was a continuous series of conferences between members anxious to hurry through some pet measures in the final rush. Many miscellaneous bills were passed.

Carrying $318,000,000.

An agreement on the postoffice appropriation bill, the last of the supply measures in the conference, was reached by the conferees late tonight. Provision for the space basis of payment for railway mail service was retained. The proposed abolition of assistant postmasters was eliminated.

Pass Civil War Claims.

The senate passed the omnibus Civil war claims bill carrying approximately $2,000,000, with an amendment by Senator Crawford which would make such claims hereafter subject to findings of a court of claims. This, in effect, would terminate the liability for claims arising out of the war.

A claims bill passed provides for payment of certain overtime charges to navy yard employes, and an alteration of the army and navy longevity service [illegible], and also to make the term of service begin with entrance into the military or naval academy or the ranks of the army.

The volunteer Civil war officers' retirement pay bill also was passed virtually without debate.

In the flood of miscellaneous legislation that swept the house a resolution was adopted without opposition placing the house on record as opposed to any reorganization of the rural mail service that will render that service less effective or will tend in any way to reduce the number of rural mail routes.

The resolution, introduced by Representative Thomas of Kentucky, was directed against a reorganization plan proposed by Postmaster General Burleson, which was stricken out of the postoffice appropriation bill by the [illegible].

The conference report on the general deficiency bill, carrying approximately [illegible] was agreed to [illegible] by a vote of 36 to 26.

NEUTRALITY LAWS MADE MORE STRICT

Congress Enlarges Power of President to Prevent Infringements

[WASHI]NGTON, March 3.—By unanimous vote the senate late tonight adopted a substitute for the joint resolution passed earlier in the house enlarging the power of the president to prevent infringements of American neutrality by vessels leaving ports of the United States with men or supplies for belligerent warships. The senate substitute later was agreed to in the house. The resolution now goes to President Wilson for his signature.

Counselor Lansing and Assistant Attorney General Warren, who has had general charge of the alleged violations of neutrality laws by the Hamburg-American line in New York, in sending supplies to belligerent vessels at sea, participated in the White house conference.

When the conference was over the senators indicated the resolution would stand practically as drawn, but that there would be some slight changes in phraseology to make its object clearer.

Later Counsellor Lansing gave out the following statement explaining the object of the resolution:

"Under present conditions, in case the neutrality of the United States is being or is likely to be violated by the use of any of its ports as a base of operations through the furnishing of fuel, arms and ammunition to warships of a belligerent nation, the only remedy which the United States has is the preventive power under the constitutional authority to enforce the laws and especially to preserve the neutrality of the United States.

"The object of this joint resolution is to make the act which constitutes violation of neutral obligations of this country a penal offense and also to make more definite by legislative enactment the right of the president to withhold clearance in case it shall appear that such neutral obligations are about to be violated."

GEN. SCOTT TO TRY TO PACIFY PIUTES

Army Chief Goes to Utah to Induce Indians to Give Up Leader

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Brigadier General Scott, chief of staff of the army, left here today for Utah to attempt a peaceful settlement with the recalcitrant Piute Indians.

General Scott has a long record, not only as an Indian fighter, but also as a mediator among the Indians, whose dialects he speaks and whose habits he knows thoroughly. War department officials say he has more influence with the Indians of the west than any other white man. About a year ago he brought the recalcitrant Navajos into camp without bloodshed.

After conferences today between officials of the war department, the department of justice and the interior department, it was decided to ask General Scott to see if he could not bring the renegade band of Piutes in to give up their leader, who is charged with murder. Reports from Bluff, Utah, where the band is entrenched, say the roads are very bad and the country is covered with deep snow. It may take General Scott and his party three days to reach the Indians after they leave the railroad.

Reports to the Indian office say there are now nearly 200 Piute warriors off the reservation. They are said to have the sympathies of many of the reservation Indians. With three feet of snow in the mountains, and no railroad communication within several hundred miles, members of the army general staff familiar with Indian fighting think a campaign would be attended by great difficulties.

General Scott and Colonel Michie, his aide, expect to get as close to the Indian country by railroad as possible by Saturday or Sunday. The mountain roads are impassable for automobiles at this season, and probably it will be necessary for the general, with escort, to go on horseback on a four or five days' journey.

Pending the outcome of General Scott's mission, the war department has not given much thought to the dispatch of troops. They probably would be drawn from the Tenth cavalry at Fort Douglas, Utah, about 300 miles away from the Indian country, or from the Ninth cavalry at Naco.

As General Scott left Washington he announced that he would proceed by rail to Morrison, Utah. At this point he would strike into the mountains on horseback for a distance of 170 miles through the snow. Besides Colonel Michie, his aide, General Scott will be accompanied by an orderly. It is also possible that he will take with him some Navajo Indians living in the vicinity to act as guides and to make camp.

The general's mission will be attended by considerable personal risk to himself and his little party, and some of the old soldiers in the war department today recalled [illegible] in the Indian country. Secretary Garrison feels reasonably confident, however, that the mission will be successful. He recalled incidents in the adventurous career of General Scott to justify his confidence.

GERMANY AGREES TO ALL U. S. PROPOSALS

Only Few Minor Points Remain; Upon Britain's Reply Depends Success

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The official text of Germany's reply to the suggestions of the United States government with reference to the abandonment of submarine warfare on merchant ships and the shipment of foodstuffs to the civilian population of belligerents, was received late today by the state department.

The German communication was an acquiescence in practically all of the points proposed by the United States. Administration officials were greatly pleased, both with its tone and its promise of a cessation of submarine warfare on unarmed merchant ships if shipments of food to German civilians are not stopped.

All eyes are now turned on London, where the reply of the allies to the same communication from the United States will be formulated. An acquiescence by Great Britain would completely alter the situation, as it would involve also a withdrawal of the latest declaration of an embargo on all commerce by sea between Germany and neutral countries.

It was admitted at the state department today that a protest and other forms of reply to the British declaration were under consideration, but the impression prevailed that no step would be taken until the reply of the allies to the proposal, now approved by Germany, was in hand.

No Submarine Attacks.

Although the answer from Germany, transmitted by Ambassador Gerard, left one or two points still to be negotiated, the fact that it promised that no attacks by submarines would be made on any merchant vessels, if they were unarmed, provided there was no fictitious use of flags, raised the hopes of officials that something tangible would result from the negotiations. There was a feeling of confidence, especially that some restrictions would be adopted concerning the use of mines.

Some high officials grew optimistic concerning Great Britain's reply. They pointed out that the retaliatory measures just announced by England whereby Germany's commerce with the outside world was to be stopped were in reality drafted immediately after the German admiralty proclaimed the war zone around Great Britain and Ireland and were submitted by England to her allies before the American suggestions for a solution were interposed. When the allies finally approved, Great Britain had no other course for the present, some officials thought, than to announce her retaliatory measures.

The fact that in announcing them the British government stated that the steps did not constitute a reply to the American government's proposals is regarded as confirmatory of the idea that the new declaration may yet be revoked, if a modus vivendi is reached with Germany through the United States government concerning submarine warfare.

FORMAL OPENING OF CANAL WILL BE DULL

President Won't Go to Panama Because Congress Won't Supply Money

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Many features of the elaborate exercises planned for the formal opening of the Panama canal in July will be abandoned as the result of the action of congress in refusing to make the appropriation for the purpose asked for by Secretary Garrison of the war department.

The appropriation requested was to defray the expenses of a trip to the Canal Zone of President Wilson, members of congress, members of the diplomatic corps, representatives from foreign governments and other special guests, including former Presidents Roosevelt and Taft. Provision also was to be made for a banquet and other entertainments on the isthmus, for gold medal souvenirs, and for the printing of special invitations.

It was intimated tonight that the president himself would not go to the formal opening, which is planned for July, but it is possible that he may change his present plans. The navy department has an appropriation for sending the fleet to the canal, and it was said that some kind of exercises probably would be held.

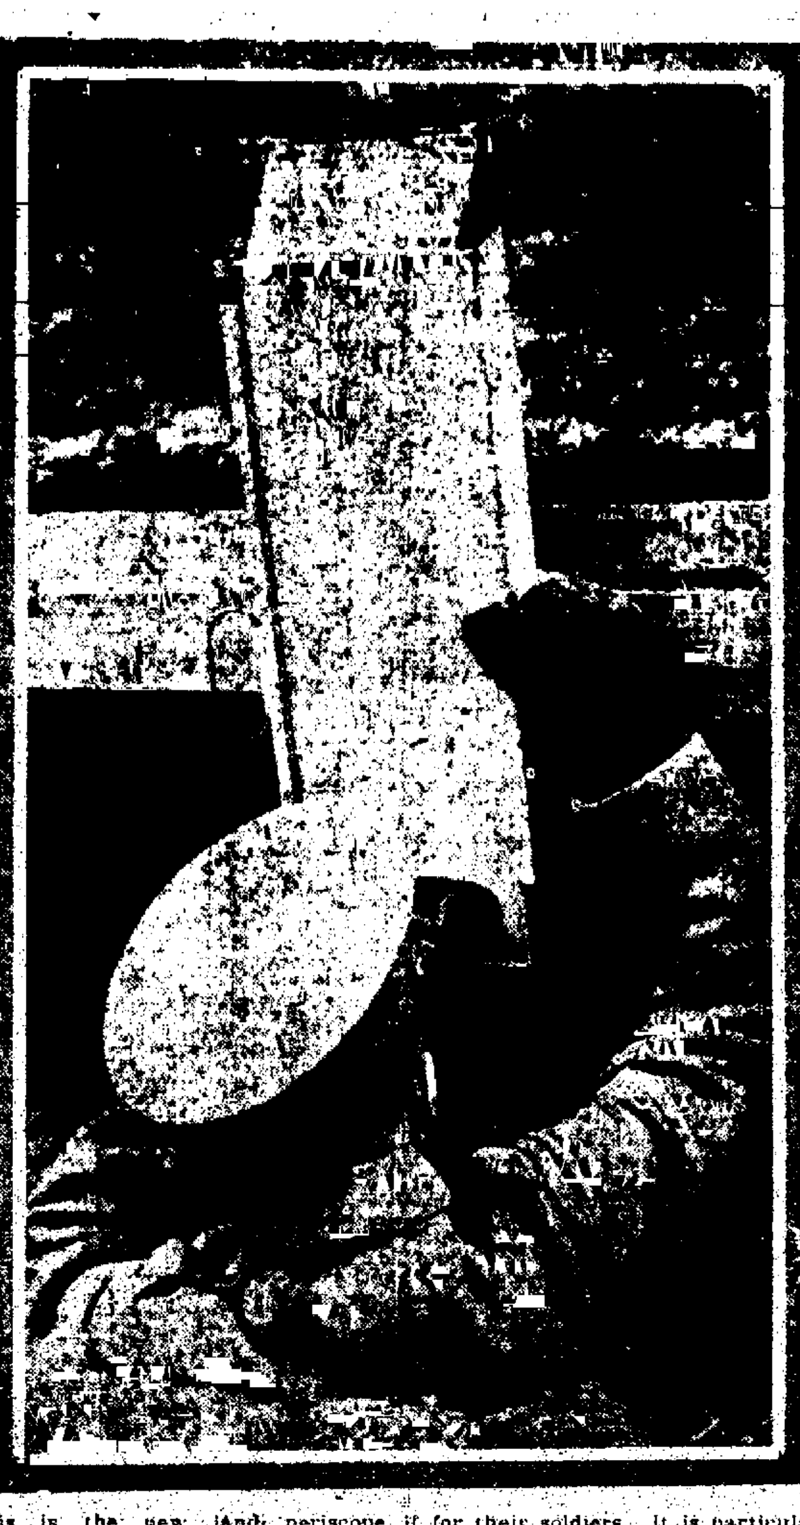

The canal opening was to have been held this month, but was postponed until July because of landslides. The original plan was to have the president go through the canal on a battleship and then proceed to San Francisco for the Panama Pacific exposition.

All of the president's plans for the spring and summer months were said tonight to be dependent on the international situation. While the prospects for his going by train to San Francisco later this month were said to be bright, he will make no final arrangements for the present.

TWO MASKED BANDITS ROB ARKANSAS BANK OF $1,000

DEQUEEN, Ark., March 3.—Two men wearing false beards robbed the Bank of Gilham, 18 miles north of here, today, and escaped with $1,050. Dr. [illegible], president, and a customer were in the bank when the men entered. After taking the cash the robbers forced the president and the other man to walk out of town ahead of them, and later the men escaped on horses.

New Periscope for Use on Land

This is the new land periscope copied from that of submarines, but never before used in land operations in an army. The British have adopted it for their soldiers. It is particularly useful in connection with work in the trenches, and this illustration shows a British soldier sighting from a trench, where he cannot be shot by the enemy.

ROCKEFELLER MAY AID NEEDY MINERS

If Necessary, Will Help Destitute Personally or Through Foundation

NEW YORK, March 3.—Assistance by the Rockefeller foundation may be given to Colorado miners and their families who are in distress as a result of recent mining troubles in that state, if civic and other authorities are unable to cope with the need. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., indicated tonight in a telegram sent to President F. J. Radford of the chamber of commerce at Trinidad, Colo. Mr. Rockefeller's telegram was sent in response to one received from Mr. Radford appealing to him for aid.

Mr. Rockefeller, in his telegram, said that, so far as former employes of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company and their families are concerned, officials of the company have expressed the hope that the company itself will be able to provide such help as is necessary.

"If the city and state authorities," Mr. Rockefeller's telegram continued, "are of the opinion that what other mining companies, existing agencies and local aid may be able to accomplish will prove insufficient to meet other cases of distress, and that widespread suffering and want will ensue among miners and their families unless assistance from without the state is provided, a situation would be presented which the Rockefeller foundation might properly consider on representations from leading bodies and the governor of the state as to the extent of their inability to cope with the need.

"I have already intimated to the officers of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company that I should be willing to make a personal contribution to the company to aid it in relieving distress among its former employes should that become necessary, but without official representations in regard to the general distress, I should fear that the citizens of Colorado might not welcome and that the foundation would not be justified in acting on the suggestion made to me in your telegram to make the aid general."

In his telegram to Mr. Rockefeller, Mr. Radford said that the chamber of commerce stood ready to cooperate with him.

DENVER, March 3.—The Trinidad chamber of commerce, following the receipt of the telegram from John D. Rockefeller, Jr., held a special meeting today at which it was decided to take no further action with respect to Mr. Rockefeller's message until Governor Carlson had outlined the attitude of the state administration. Governor Carlson tonight stated that he was not yet advised in the matter but that it would be given early consideration.

RECEIVERS FOR WESTERN PACIFIC ARE APPOINTED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—[illegible] G. Drum, a San Francisco capitalist, and Warren Olney, Jr., chief counsel of the Western Pacific railroad, were appointed receivers of the [illegible] Pacific railroad by Judge Van Fleet of the district court today.

GOV. CARLSON SIGNS PROHIBITION BILL

House Passes Bills Ousting Judge Lindsey on Second Reading

DENVER, March 3.—With the signing of the prohibition bill today by Governor Carlson, the administration measure designed to enforce the prohibition amendment simultaneously with the amendment, January 1, 1916. The bill provides strong statutory penalties for violations of the amendment as defined in the bill.

The house today passed four so-called juvenile court bills on the second reading. The measures, which were introduced by Representative E. M. Sabin of Denver, Republican, would transfer all of the powers of the juvenile court to the district court and also transfer all divorce cases from county to district courts.

Democratic opposition to the measures was led by Representative Evangeline Heartz of Denver, who charged that the real object of the bills was the removal from office of Ben B. Lindsey, judge of the Denver juvenile court. Representative Sabin denied that this was the object of the bills, but added that this might result from their enactment into laws.

In support of the measures, Representative Sabin argued that one tribunal should pass upon all litigation pertaining to family relations. Under the present system, he said, both county and district courts grant divorces, while the juvenile court distributes the children. Governor Carlson, he declared, could appoint Judge Lindsey district judge in the new position created by the bills. "And I hope he does not, and every one of you Democrats hope so, too," he added.

The house also passed on third reading the bill making eight hours a day's work in state penal institutions. A similar bill was killed in the senate.

W. W. Hewlett, a representative from [illegible], today asked the appointment of a house committee to investigate published statements that he had recently received a package containing currency. He denied the report. The committee was appointed, with Speaker Stewart as chairman.

The senate passed on third reading the bill designed to render owners or tenants of property used for questionable character [illegible].

BELGIAN RELIEF STEAMER FLOATED OFF COAST

52 SHIPS SHELL THE DARDANELLES

34 TURK GUNS HAVE BEEN DEMOLISHED

Two Batteries and Village Destroyed; British Cruiser Damaged

LONDON, March 4 (Thursday).—"According to dispatches received here from Mytelene and Tenedos islands," Reuter's Athens correspondent says, "the allied fleet has destroyed the batteries of Kilid Bahr and Banakale and arrived near Dardanelles. There are more than 100,000 Turks on the Gallipoli coast under Issad Pasha. The village of Yenishahr is reported to have been destroyed by fire."

A Reuter dispatch from Athens dated March 2 says:

"The bombardment was resumed this morning at 10 o'clock when 52 ships entered the straits. Four battleships bombarded the Turkish positions on the Gulf of Saros. At noon the shelling was redoubled in violence for two hours. The results are not yet known.

"Allied detachments which landed at Kum Kale, on the Asiatic side of the strait at the entrance to the Dardanelles, met and dispersed the Turkish garrison. A British warship has bombarded Yenishahr (about two miles south of the entrance to the Dardanelles on the Asiatic side)."

LONDON, March 4 (Thursday, 12:56 a. m.).—A dispatch to the Havas agency from Athens says that a mist prevented the ascertainment of the extent of the damage done by the warships in their bombardment of the inner forts of the Dardanelles yesterday. A destroyer which passed before the town of Dardanelles, according to the correspondent, reported that it had been evacuated.

AMSTERDAM, via London, March 4 (Thursday, 12:59 a. m.).—The Berliner Tageblatt's Constantinople correspondent says the British cruiser Zephyr was badly damaged in the Dardanelles bombardment and was taken to Saloniki with 150 men wounded.

The Turkish newspapers, according to the newspaper, says that the Dardanelles will be the grave of Turkey's enemies.

LONDON, March 4 (Thursday, 12:25 a. m.).—The admiralty late last night issued the following report regarding the bombardment of the Turkish forts by the Anglo-French fleet:

"The operations in the Dardanelles were resumed at 11 o'clock Monday morning when the Triumph, Ocean and Albion entered the straits and attacked Fort No. 8, and the batteries at White Cliff. The fire was returned by the forts and also by field guns and howitzers.

"An air reconnaissance made by naval sea planes in the evening brought the report that several new gun positions had been prepared by the enemy, but that no guns were erected in them. The seaplanes also located surface mines.

Mine Sweepers Active.

"During Monday night a force of mine sweepers covered by destroyers swept within a mile and a half of Cape Kephez, and their work which was carried out under fire, is reported to have been excellent. The casualties sustained during the day were slight, amounting to only six wounded.

"Four of the French battleships operated off Bulair and bombarded the batteries and communications.

"The operations at the entrance of the straits, already reported, have resulted in the destruction of 19 guns, ranging from six to 11 inches, 11 guns below six inches, four Nordenfelt guns and two searchlights. The magazines of Forts Six and Three also have been demolished.

"A further report states that on Tuesday the Canopus, Swiftsure and Cornwallis engaged Fort No. 8. A heavy fire was opened on them by Fort No. 9, together with field batteries and howitzers. Fort No. 9 was damaged and ceased firing at 5:30 in the afternoon, and, although three ships were hit, the only casualty was one man slightly wounded.

"Seaplane reconnaissance was impossible, owing to the weather; the mine sweeping operations were continued throughout the day. The attack continues.

Three Forts Silenced.

"A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company from Athens says:

"The allied fleet today bombarded and reduced to silence the forts of Dardanus, Hamidieh and Tchemenlik, on the Asiatic side of the inside Dardanelles. The telegraph station at Berkia also was demolished.

"The bombardment was carried out by nine ships which advanced two miles up the straits."

PARIS, March 3 (Via London, March 4, Thursday, 12:30 a. m.).—The French ministry of marine tonight issued the following communication:

"The operations of the Anglo-French fleet against the Dardanelles continued yesterday. A French division under Rear Admiral Guepratte operated in the Gulf of Saros against the forts and the Bulair lines. The French battleship Suffren effectively bombarded the Saros fort, and the battleship Gaulois set fire to the barracks of Fort Napoleon. The garrisons evacuated the works.

SILENCE TWO SLAV FORTS AT OSSOWETZ

Germans Unable, However, to Approach City; Retreat in Other Parts

TRY TO RELIEVE PRZEMYSL

Losses Here Enormous; French Gain in Champagne; Russ Take Turk Port

LONDON, March 3.—In their determination to relieve Przemysl and drive the Russians out of Galicia, the Austro-German armies, which for some weeks have been on the Galician side of the Carpathian mountains, have, during the last few days, made repeated attempts to break through the Russian entrenchments, but without success. Since Sunday last, when in massed formation they threw themselves against Russian troops holding strong positions, the Austro-Germans have attacked repeatedly in spite of the heavy losses which this kind of fighting entails.

Yesterday, according to the Russian official account, the Austrians delivered furious attacks between the San and Ordawa rivers, only to be thrown back as they were in their previous efforts, while the Germans made several fruitless attempts around Kozlouwka and Rojanka, at the latter point losing two companies which were surrounded and annihilated.

No estimates have been published of the losses sustained by the Germanic armies in their efforts to break through the Russian lines at these places, but they are believed to have been very large, as the Russian positions were almost impregnable.

Regarding the Austrians' attempt to outflank the Russians in eastern Galicia, two Russian official reports in succession have reported that the Austrians suffered a severe reverse and that yesterday they lost in prisoners alone more than 6,000 men. The Russians also captured a number of guns and a large quantity of transport material.

Silence Two Forts.

On the other extreme wing in North Poland the Germans have either assumed the defensive or are retiring, except at Ossowetz, where they continue to bombard the fortress. Berlin reports unofficially that at this point the Germans have succeeded in silencing two of the forts. Their attempt to approach the city, however, has been repulsed by the Russians.

The Germans, while claiming success near Augustowo, where they captured 1,500 prisoners from among the Russian forces who tried to cross the Bobr river, admit that they have withdrawn their advance guards south of Myszniec and that the Russians have been feeling their way forward to the northwest of Prasnysz.

The fact seems to be that the Russians are advancing along the whole northern line, but every slowly, because of the mud, which impedes the movement of guns and transport wagons. They have been able to reinforce their armies at every threatened point, and are now considered to be in as good a position as the Germans, who have left their railways behind them.

So far as the west is concerned, the French offensive in the Champagne region continues to be the outstanding feature of the campaign. The French troops have now reached the highest points on the ground north of Perthes and Beausejour and must be drawing near positions from which they will be able to shell the branch railway that runs to the rear of the German line and maintains communication between the German forces before Rheims and Verdun.

There has been fighting at other points, but none to compare in importance with that in Champagne.

Russians Take Port.

With the allied fleet again bombarding the Dardanelles and the Russians pushing their offensive in the Caucasus, the near east is again coming into the limelight. The Russians have scored a distinct success by the capture of the Turkish port of Khopa on the Black sea, from which the Turkish army in the Caucasus drew part of its supplies.

Unofficial reports say that besides the ships which entered the Dardanelles and are bombarding the interior forts, some of the fleet are throwing shells overland into the Gulf of Saros so that the Turkish garrisons will be subjected to fire from two sides. The Turks are concentrating strong forces for the defense of Constantinople and the Balkan states are watching the operations with intense interest. The success or failure of the allies' attempt to open the straits means much to the Balkan nations.

The king of Greece has called a grand council, including the premier, former premiers and other statesmen, for a full discussion of the situation. The chamber later will hear the report of the council.

Austrian Statement

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Stubborn fighting in the Carpathians and East Galicia, with the Austro-Hungarian troops holding their positions, was reported in an official Vienna dispatch today to the Austro-Hungarian embassy here. The message also said the press of Austro-Hungary immediately approved the recent American note proposing a settlement of the war zone and food supply problems.

The dispatch said:

"Tenacious battles in the Carpathians and East Galicia continue.

"The Austro-Hungarian troops are holding the positions which they gained along the front.

"Several local successes were gained.

"The press expresses unanimous approval of the American note and regrets that the attitude of France and England frustrates the intent of President Wilson. Its benefit in the offensive of common interests, as well as interests of humanity, is emphasized."

VIENNA (Via London), March 3.—following official communication has been issued from the war office:

"In the Carpathians, west of Uzsok pass, fighting is proceeding which has developed to a large extent into engagements for the protection of important heights and lines. Several Russian counter-attacks have been repulsed with great loss to the enemy.

"During the day several local successes were gained along the battle front. In an assault on a ridge north of Cisna we took 400 prisoners.

"Vigorous fighting is in progress along the whole battle front in southeast Galicia. On the Dunajec river and in Russian Poland nothing of importance has occurred."

Russian Statement

PETROGRAD, Russia, March 3.—The war office issued the following statement today:

"On March 1 and 2, between the Nieman and the Vistula (northern Poland), the Germans delivered attacks in the region of Ossowetz. Many attempts of the enemy to approach the fortress were repulsed.

"In the region of Grodno, and in other sections of the whole front, our troops continued to make progress.

"We took by assault the village of Kerjen, on the left bank of the river Amouleff, where we took prisoners, 10 officers and certain numbers of soldiers and captured two rapid-fire guns.

"In the Carpathians, between Ondawa and the San, we continue with complete success to repulse formidable attacks of the Austrian army. The Germans delivered fruitless attacks in the region of Koziouwka and Rojanka. At the latter point we succeeded in enveloping and annihilating two German companies.

"In East Galicia the Austrians who were defending the passage of the river Lomnitza suffered a new and very serious check; our troops, while fighting, crossing the river and occupying the village of Krasnau. The following day we took 6,000 prisoners, with 64 officers and four cannon, seven rapid-fire guns and a large quantity of regiment and division trains.

French Statement

PARIS, March 3 (Via London, March 4, Thursday, 12:07 a. m.)—The following official communication has been issued by the French war office:

"From the sea to the Aisne there has been cannonading of varying intensity. The Germans again began to bombard Rheims with incendiary shells.

"In the Champagne region, on the front north of Souain, Mesnil and Beausejour, our progress continues. We are holding on the entire attacking front; that is to say, over a distance of over six kilometers (nearly four miles), a total of German lines representing a depth of one kilometer (two-thirds of a mile).

"Our progress today has been particularly marked to the west of Perthes, where we have captured trenches and extended our position in the woods. We also gained ground to the north of Mesnil. Finally, in the same region, we have repulsed several violent counter-attacks. The regiments of the guards sustained enormous losses.

"Since the last communication we have made about 100 prisoners and have captured a machine gun. Several German attacks were repulsed in the wood of Consenvoye, north of Verdun, and in the forest of Le Petre, west of Pont-a-Mousson."

PARIS, March 4 (Thursday, 12:10 a. m.)—The following supplementary official statement was issued late last night by the French war office:

"It can be stated that in the Argonne, where we had been constantly attacked since December, the roles in the last three weeks have been reversed. Today we have gained the indisputable ascendency. The effect is salutary in these local actions, of which the Argonne is the theater, to feel that more and more the enemy is at our mercy and that our moral superiority is assured.

"We have obtained this result by a series of limited operations, energetically carried out and, although the German forces which confront us are extremely courageous, we feel that at a given point and moment we are masters and can do what we wish."

The statement gives the details of one of these engagements, which it says, occur daily and show the splendid ardor of the troops.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

WE EAT TOO MUCH MEAT WHICH CLOGS KIDNEYS, THEN THE BACK HURTS

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. Adv.

HOUSE DROPS DAYTON IMPEACHMENT PROBE

Conduct Reprehensible, but Cannot Prove Guilt, Says Majority Report

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Impeachment proceedings against Alston G. Dayton, federal judge in the northern district of West Virginia, were dropped by the house judiciary committee today by a vote of 11 to 4. A majority report drafted by the subcommittee which investigated charges against Judge Dayton held that, while his conduct "in some instances" had been reprehensible, there was "little possibility of maintaining them to a conclusion of guilt." The minority report, drawn by Chairman McGillicuddy, and recommending impeachment, was rejected.

The house authorized the investigation early in February, and a subcommittee went to West Virginia to conduct the inquiry, which was concluded in Washington after Dayton had appeared in his own behalf. The house directed that the subcommittee inquire, among other things, whether Judge Dayton conspired with certain corporations and individuals to secure the removal of Judge Jackson, his predecessor; whether he had showed marked favoritism to certain corporations having extensive litigation in his court; whether he had lent his services as judge to coal operators by improperly issuing injunctions; whether he had shown hatred and bitterness toward miners on trial in his court, and whether he had openly stated he would not permit the United Mine Workers of America to exist within the jurisdiction of his court.

The majority report, written by Representatives Gard and Danforth, stated that careful consideration of the evidence "convinces us that there is little possibility of maintaining to a conclusion of guilt the charges made and impels us, therefore, to recommend that there be no further proceedings."

The findings on specific charges declared the judge had not conspired to remove Jackson, and had not shown favoritism to corporations. The report stated that as to charges of prejudice against labor organizations, Dayton's conduct in cases involving them "generally was that of one who had prejudged the cases before him."

In his testimony before the subcommittee Judge Dayton denied the charges and declared that he was not "temperamentally unfit" for the bench.

Representative McGillicuddy's minority report agrees with the majority's findings of fact, but set forth the findings "warrant further proceedings looking to impeachment."

FINAL RUSH KILLS MANY WILSON BILLS

in conference about midnight. A senate amendment for readjudication of the cases of 10,000 claimants adversely passed upon by Secretary Hitchcock of the interior department years ago, was stricken out.

A sweeping provision authorizing investigations of claims by the Indian bureau also was eliminated. The appropriations for irrigation systems on the Flathead Indian reservation and the Fort Peck reservations were cut respectively, from $500,000 to $400,000 and from $150,000 to $50,000.

Another item eliminated was the senate provision for negotiations with the confederated bands of Ute Indians for a final settlement of all claims against the United States running upward of [illegible].

The senate receded from amendments to the war claims bill relating to travel pay and objected to by the house, and the bill now goes to the president retaining the Crawford amendment, making the last of such measures arising from the Civil war.

The end of the long and bitter fight over the government ship purchase bill came late today in the midst of consideration of the war claims bill in the senate. Senator Fletcher, who had led the champions of the measure, announced the surrender to the opposition after Senator Weeks of Massachusetts had given notice that the filibustering Republicans would talk it to death if it came up again.

Senator Fletcher had moved that the senate ask the house for further conference on the bill. Then Senator Bankhead, one of the Democrats who revolted against the measure, discussed its approaching collapse and said he forgave his Democratic colleagues for harsh words spoken in heat of debate against those who had broken away from the party on the issue.

Senator Weeks recalled the scenes that attended the long filibuster by rising behind a huge pile of books and papers and launching into another speech against the bill. He announced that he would speak for an hour or two, and read the names of 24 other Republican senators who were prepared to discuss the subject.

Senator Fletcher interrupted and, after reiterating arguments in favor of the bill and briefly discussing the shipping emergency, said:

"It is perfectly evident, in view of the announcement by the senator from Massachusetts, that it will be impossible to pass this bill at this time. We have but a few precious hours left in the life of this congress in which to complete important work, and in order that we may proceed to other business I wish to end this discussion by withdrawing my motion, which I shall not again renew."

As Senator Fletcher took his seat Republican senators who had conducted the filibuster gathered in the rear of the senate chamber and exchanged congratulations. Senator Root shook hands with Senator Lodge, and both turned to grasp the hands of Senators Weeks, Burton, Gallinger, Smoot and others.

"This ends the greatest fight in the history of the senate," Senator Lodge remarked.

The senate resumed consideration of the war claims bill when order had been restored, but Senator Thomas of Colorado insisted upon discussing the filibuster. He charged Senator Smoot with having organized the fight which killed the shipping bill and declared that the result of the struggle signaled the end of filibustering in the senate.

In speaking of Senator Stone's denunciation of the revolting Democrats, Senator Bankhead said:

"His heart is in the right place. His mind some times goes wrong. I freely and without reserve forgive him."

He added that the junior senator from Missouri was born kicking and has been kicking ever since, and that he "excused" him.

ANARCHIST ADMITS DYNAMITE CHARGES

Men Who Threw Bombs in St. Patricks Cathedral Are Indicted

NEW YORK, March 3.—The grand jury found indictments late today against Frank Abarno and Charles Carbone, the anarchists who were arrested yesterday, accused of having plotted to explode two dynamite bombs in St. Patricks cathedral yesterday morning while several hundred worshipers were at mass. The indictments charge the two men with having placed a bomb in a public place in violation of the penal law. Abarno and Carbone were arraigned and held in $25,000 bail each, for pleading on Friday. The maximum penalty for the crime charged is 25 years in prison.

Although Carbone took no actual part in the placing of the bombs in the cathedral, it was charged that he did most of the work in manufacturing them, knowing the use to which they were to be put, and that therefore he was equally culpable with Abarno. The latter is accused of having carried the bombs into the church and of having lighted the fuse of one of them.

When the men were arraigned Carbone said through an interpreter that he knew nothing of the bomb plot, did not make the bomb and was entirely innocent. Last night the police announced that both Carbone and Abarno had confessed to plotting to explode the bombs in the cathedral, this being the initial move in the inauguration in this city of a series of outrages in which Andrew Carnegie, John D. Rockefeller, and his son, and other wealthy men were to be killed and the banks to be looted.

Didn't Know About Defective.

Abarno, when he heard Carbone's denial this afternoon, said that there were three men in the plot and that one of them had disappeared after he had been taken by the police. Abarno is believed to have referred to Emilio Polignani, the young detective who was responsible for the uncovering of the alleged plot, having lived in an anarchist colony with Carbone and Abarno for weeks and taking an active part in their plans as an avowed member of their band. It was only today that Carbone and Abarno learned that Polignani was in reality a detective.

"This third man, the one who got away, is the one who did 75 per cent of the work," Abarno continued.

He added that this man had made most of the purchases and was the moving power in the plot. He did not admit, however, that he understood the one to whom he referred was a police officer.

"My head may have been turned a little by what I had been reading about conditions," Abarno went on, "and I was bad."

"What was in your head when you planted the bomb?" the presiding judge asked.

"The condition of society leaves the only thing to be done, the frightening of the rich," Abarno replied. "The bomb was needed to make a change in conditions. I did not want to injure the people in the cathedral. I saw them there in prayer and I did not want to harm them, but the rich must be frightened into knowing conditions of the poor."

The prisoner paused and laughed and then added:

"I guess they know now."

After the hearing, the prisoners were taken to the Tombs and locked up in default of bail. It is understood that they will be brought to trial at the earliest possible moment, probably next week.

THE WAR IN EVERY-DAY LIFE

Elizabeth Robins Pennell, in the Atlantic.

First it was my French butcher who left, taking with him all immediate chance for the neat French fricandeaus and filets piques that reconcile me to the occasional joint. Then it was the porters of my French grocer, so that the superior Italian in command was obliged to leave the cashier's desk and struggle up the four flights of our back stairs with bags and boxes, to his supreme wrath and my equal embarrassment.

Then it was somebody from almost every shop where I deal in Soho. And worse, almost at once it was Marcel, a chef, who is also Augustine's husband—in which capacity he has lived with us many years and become an indispensable member of our household. On Monday morning came his call from the French consul; by Tuesday afternoon he had given up his excellent post in the city, his good wages, the chances of that careful education it is his ambition to give to his two small daughters, and was well on his way to Paris.

Even M. Jules, who shampoos my hair, wrote me that "the outbreak of hostilities between his country and Germany had placed him in the position to serve under the French colors;" and though he had never worn the petit pioupiou's red trousers and blue coat, never handled a gun, never done a day's march and was too old to begin, his capable hands, whose heaviest task had been the washing and waving of ladies' hair, could be useful in the harvest fields and vineyards of France. NAVAL MEASURE MOST LIBERAL IN HISTORY

Secretary Daniels Points Out Constructive Features; Thanks Congress

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Secretary Daniels, in a statement tonight, analyzed the constructive features in the naval appropriation bill and characterized it as the "most liberal measure for the increase and support of the navy" ever enacted.

The Sixty-third congress, Mr. Daniels said, had been more generous than any other, having provided $86,145,535 for new ships, over $30,250,000 more than the preceding congress appropriated. Five dreadnoughts—an entire division—were provided for in two bills.

"The wisdom of the present congress," the secretary said, "is shown particularly in its resistance to attempts to discredit the navy's material and personnel; in its adherence to the fundamental types of fighting vessels—battleships, destroyers and submarines; in its recognition of aircraft and submarines as important auxiliaries of warfare and of the latter's increased efficacy; in its creation of a naval reserve; in the establishment of the office of chief of naval operations and the ranks of admirals and vice admirals; in the abolition of the plucking board; in equipping navy yards for the construction of ships and the increase in the manufacture of munitions of war, in well-considered and liberal appropriations for the needs of the service in every line.

"No other congress has gone so far to see that its appropriation was applied where most vitally needed and without regard to merely political considerations. Everything has been subordinated to the battle fleet and its efficiency. Of perhaps even greater eventual importance than the mere physical additions to the fleet are the steps which have been taken toward increasing the personnel and modernizing the military organization of the navy."

FRENCH AND GERMAN LAWS ON REGISTRY ARE SIMILIAR

Dacia's Detention Causes Study of Statutes; U. S. Takes No Action in Case

PARIS, March 3.—The American embassy here has not received any instructions from Washington concerning the American steamer Dacia, from American ports to Germany with a cargo of cotton, picked up at sea by a French cruiser and taken into Brest, nor has it had any communication from the French government on this subject. The Dacia was formerly a Hamburg-American liner. She took out American registry since the outbreak of hostilities.

The legal department of the foreign office, in looking into the status of the Dacia, finds a singular resemblance between the French and German laws relative to the transfer of registry during a period of hostility. The second article of an imperial German ordinance issued August 3, 1914, under the law of September 30, 1909, reads:

"Those must be considered as ships of an enemy which have been transferred after the opening of hostilities under a neutral flag:

"First—If the commander of the capturing ship is not convinced that the transfer would have legally taken place if war had not broken out; for instance, by inheritance or contract of construction.

"Second—If the transfer took place while the ship was en route or in a blocked port.

"Third—If there be a provision for repurchase if the conditions to which ships flying the substituted flag are submitted have not been observed."

The thirteenth article of the French ministry's communication concerning international law reads:

"The transfer under a neutral flag of an enemy's ships effected after the opening of hostilities is null and void unless it be established that the transfer has not been effected with a view to eluding consequences which the character of the enemy's ships involve; for instance, by inheritance. However, there is an absolute presumption of nullity if the transfer was effected while the ship was en voyage or in a blocked port or if there is a faculty of repurchase if the conditions to which the ships flying the substituted flag are submitted have not been observed."

41 WESTERN ROADS BEGIN HIGHER RATE CASE TODAY

Will Argue Before Commerce Commission in Chicago for Increase in Freight Rates

CHICAGO, March 3.—Forty-one western railroads, through their counsel, will begin in Chicago tomorrow their argument before the interstate commerce commission on their application for an increase in freight rates, which, according to the railroads, would increase their annual revenue [illegible]. The hearings will be before Commissioner W. H. Daniels.

C. C. Wright, general solicitor of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company, will appear as chief counsel for all the railroads interested. He will make the opening argument, giving the basis on which the railroads place their request for an increase. Clifford Thorne, chairman of the Iowa state railway commission, will represent the various state railway commissions which oppose the advance.

The following is the committee selected by the fifteen state commissions to represent them and present the evidence and data gathered by the state:

[illegible] Helm, Kansas; Willis F. Reed and Henry T. Clark Jr., Nebraska; W. [illegible], North Dakota; [illegible], South Dakota; Clifford Thorne and [illegible] Henderson, Iowa; [illegible], Minnesota; F. A. Jones, [illegible]; W. [illegible] Barrow, Louisiana, and George A. Henshaw, Oklahoma.

The railway and public utility commissions of these states and Arkansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Nevada and Utah have empowered the committee to act for them.

PROTEST AGAINST ACTS OF OBREGON

State Department Asks Carranza About Conditions in Mexico City

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The state department today protested to General Carranza against alleged "incendiary statements" made in Mexico City by General Obregon regarding the food situation there. Although General Obregon made public announcement that he would withdraw his troops at the first signs of hunger riots, state department advices today said he had declined aid from an international relief committee.

The situation in Mexico City is attributed to the closing of government offices, the suspension of industry, the isolation of the capital from the outlying country and the sending of food supplies to Vera Cruz.

State department reports were summarized in this announcement:

"The department was advised that on March 2 the press of Mexico City published another statement from General Obregon as follows:

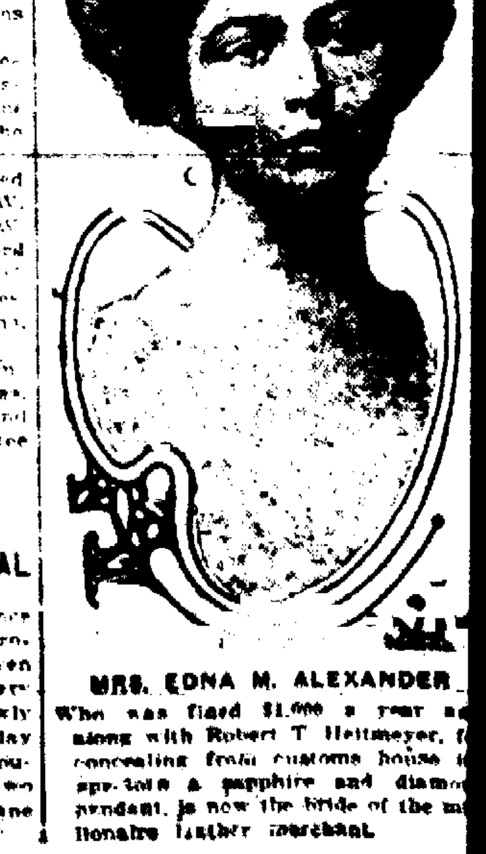

"'At the first attempt at riot I will leave the city at the head of my troops in order that they may not fire a single shot against the hungry multitude, as the merchants did not accept the invitation which was made to them to assist the people and prevent violence.'

"This statement appears to be completely at variance with the department's advices from Mexico City concerning the relief work recently instituted. It is stated that the international relief committee has taken up the work with considerable energy, and that it has met with a hearty response on the part of foreigners in general. Two banks alone have subscribed 125,000 pesos. The press of Mexico City states that on March 1 a member of the relief committee approached Obregon to ask that certain facilities be given the committee in the way of railroad transportation to bring in the much needed staple articles and his answer was that 'the Mexican people did not require any help from foreigners,' and consequently the committee's request was turned down."

WHY FRENCHMEN ARE SMALL

Dr. C. W. Saleeby in the Youth's Companion.

If a conqueror wants tall men to fight for him he gets them, and they die for him. But whether he wins or loses, he cannot expect the next generation to be so tall; and they are not. Napoleon only three generations ago wanted and used the biggest and strongest men, and they fought and died for him. Later, Michelet, the great French historian, declared that by his wars Napoleon had taken almost five inches from the stature of the French people. Observers in France today are noting how small are the French soldiers compared with the German and the British.

PROTEST AGAINST ACTIVITY OF OFFICERS IN RESERVE MOVE AUDACIOUS, SAYS WOOD

Demands Correction From Bishop Greer: Tells Gen. Scott He Merely Explained Plan

NEW YORK March [illegible] The interest of Maj Gen Leonard Wood in the newly organized American legion which contemplates a first line reserve for national defense to consist of 250,000 former soldiers [illegible] National guardsmen to take their places in the fighting line in the event of a national crisis it was pointed out by friends today consisted [illegible] fact that the plan had been submitted to him and that after he had looked it over he gave it his approval as a 'good thing' He approved it just as he would a rifle range or a drill about which a citizen might consult him prior to offering it to the government"

General Wood has been called upon by the war department to make an investigation and report to the department all the facts he obtains regarding the legion Such a report it is expected will go forward in a few days

Capt Gordon Johnston [illegible] General Wood who issued the statement in which the organization of the American legion was publicly announced in a statement today said his connection with the legion is of a purely advisory nature

The American League to Limit Armaments is opposed to the legion and has sent a telegraphic protest signed Bishop David H Greer and other of its members to President Wilson

We protest against the activities of officers of the army, the protest says "in organizing civilians and at [illegible] ing to influence public opinion [illegible] gard to military forces of the country

Statements Audacious

WASHINGTON March [illegible] Major General Wood in a telegram today to Secretary Garrison characterized as untrue statements that propaganda had been issued from his departmental headquarters for the organization of an American legion of reservists General Wood's telegram was prompted by protests from Bishop Greer and other members of the American League to Limit Armament He characterized their statements as audacious

I called Bishop Greer up said General Wood's message and asked him his authority and he replied the press only I informed him that his statement that propaganda had been issued from these headquarters was untrue and demanded that he correct and he promised to do so A more audacious misstatement made without inquiries or investigation has seldom come to my attention and I have so informed the bishop

Major General Wood in a letter to Brig Gen. Hugh L Scott chief of staff of the army received today denies that anyone in his department has had any official connection with the American Legion movement to raise reservists He said he had learned that Theodore Roosevelt former Secretaries of War Wright, Stimson and Dickinson and others had been asked to join the movement and that he believed some of them had joined

What Wood Says.

With General Scott's permission Secretary Garrison made public the following extracts from General Wood's letter

No one at these headquarters has or has had any official connection with the "American Legion" so-called which I sent you the details [illegible] ter of February [illegible] the circular relating to it

I find on inquiry that Mr Roosevelt was asked [illegible] former Secretaries of War Wright Stimson and Dickinson were asked also former Secretary Meyer of the navy and others I believe that a number of them have joined Mr Roosevelt has never communicated with me concerning it directly or indirectly

My connection is limited wholly to an interview two or three weeks ago with two gentlemen who were the founders of the movement one a former officer of volunteers in the army and the other an editor of one of the Ridgway magazines [illegible] to build up throughout the country a list of men who [illegible] training to make them useful [illegible]

DRITAIN WON'T AGREE TO AMERICA'S SUGGESTIONS

Fear Germans Won't Live Up to Agreement; Will Explain Retaliatory Plan Soon

LONDON March 3—The order in council putting the English declaration against German commerce into effect it is stated authoritatively will explain the details as to how the admiralty will proceed in enforcing the sweeping order

The exact date of the order has not yet been decided upon

Great Britain has not yet prepared her answer to the American note submitted to the British and German governments looking to the withdrawal of the submarine blockade and the continuance of food movements to Germany for the civil population The publication of the text of the American note and Germany's reply in the London papers has attracted wide attention

The English view which will undoubtedly be embodied in the note to the American government is that the suggestions propose that Great Britain shall virtually forego the strength of her position due to her superior navy In other words Great Britain feels that Germany is trying to have the neutral states perform duties for her which she could possibly carry out had she a superior navy

Furthermore the British government it is asserted, will ask what assurance the United States can give that Germany would not resume her submarine activities after she had obtained sufficient food under the relaxed regulations to enable her to carry on the war indefinitely

England's reply to the suggestion that the belligerents cease the use of floating mines will be that she has never used them The English position as to the use of neutral flags and the arming of merchant ships is that no general order has been issued for the use of the flags of neutral states and that merchant ships were armed only after Germany had declared a submarine blockade

NEW MEXICO LEGISLATURE DELUGED WITH MEASURES

Hurry to Get Them Introduced Before Time Limit Expires. Pass Banking Law

SANTA FE N M March [illegible] The legislative machine began speeding up late today in view of the deluge of bills in the last three days and the fact that no bills may be introduced after March 5

The senate passed the general banking law amended so as to restore the power of supervision and appointment of examiners to the governor

Senator Burns introduced a bill to establish a commission of three men named by the governor with the approval of the senate to examine into the financial condition and needs of the various state institutions and report to the governor previous to legislative sessions

The house passed the Bursum tax measure creating five districts with a tax commissioner and deputy from each district and restricting the levies to three mills for state purposes five mills for county purposes three mills for city town or village purposes and five mills for special school levies The bill limits the county or town indebtedness to one and a third per cent

Italy and Pope Approve of America's Joint Note

ROME March 3—The identical note of the American government to Germany and Great Britain the contents of which were published here today, met with general praise both in the political world and in the newspapers

The Giornale d'Italia calls it a proposition aiming to preserve humanitarianism in war and expresses the hope that it may be the first step toward further negotiations which will lead to pour parlers for an ultimate understanding

Pope Benedict was greatly interested in the document and requested Cardinal Gasparri to send him the text of the note and also the German reply to it He also had Cardinal Gasparri inquire at the British legation to the holy see what the British attitude in the premises would be but Sir Henry Howard the British minister said he had as yet heard nothing on the subject.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

Its Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Luster to Hair

That beautiful even shade of dark glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur [illegible] all ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and luster of your hair and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. THE M'CLURG LECTURE TOUR

THE enthusiastic fashion in which the business organizations of Denver responded to the invitation to help support the McClurg lecture tour makes interesting reading here. It ought to be especially interesting to a few individuals who, in the beginning, thought that $2,000 could not be raised in Colorado Springs, nor $6,000 in the state. Already more than $2,500 has been subscribed in Colorado Springs though the efforts of a voluntary committee, and there is plenty of assurances that more will be forthcoming if it is needed.

At the luncheon given in Mr. McClurg's honor at the Brown Palace Hotel Tuesday $5,000 was subscribed to the fund by business interests represented, and $500 was pledged for the Cripple Creek District by Mr. A. E. Carlton. The interest shown in the plan is so unmistakable that there is no doubt whatever as to the complete success of the financial arrangement. The lecture tour will be made, as planned, and there will be no danger of it failing to produce proper results through want of adequate backing.

Nor is there any likelihood of its failing for any other reason. Mr. McClurg's reputation in this field of publicity work is nation-wide and firmly established. More than any other lecturer he has succeeded in popularizing his method of publicity and making it thoroughly effective. He has lectured in most of the important cities and towns throughout the United States, and established connections with societies and organizations of various kinds which insure audiences of a high character.

By this means he is able to reach the class of people who are most desirable as visitors and prospective residents of the Pikes Peak Region. An added feature of the plan which undoubtedly will produce valuable advertising results is the publication of illustrated "feature stories" in newspapers, descriptive of the scenic and other attractions of the Pikes Peak Region.

Now that the tour is definitely decided and the pledges secured the people of Colorado Springs may well feel grateful to the small group of individuals and business interests who pushed the project to success and contributed the money. The hopeless inadequacy of the advertising done by Colorado and the Pikes Peak Region is a matter of concern to the entire public, and more particularly to the many interests whose prosperity is dependent entirely on tourist patronage.

Colorado has marked time, while California by persistent and systematic publicity methods has made itself the goal of the tourist traveler. It is time for Colorado to claim its just share of this patronage, and we believe that the McClurg lecture tour will prove to be the most effective means of bringing it here.

ADVERTISING OUR FARM LANDS

AN ATTRACTIVELY printed and illustrated booklet entitled, "Dry Land Farming in the Southwest," and issued by the Rock Island Lines, is another reminder of the obligation which the entire West, including Colorado, owes to the larger railway systems. Years ago two or three of the systems, which had been so fortunate as to obtain extensive land grants from the Government when they were organized, carried on desultory campaigns to dispose of these holdings.

They did not care much what sort of stories they told the prospective purchasers, nor whether the buyer was likely to settle on the land and become a successful farmer. In consequence, although a great deal of land was sold, it resulted in very little development, and railway land in the semi-arid regions of the West soon became a synonym for failure.

Things are different now. Only one or two of the big railway systems have land of their own to sell, but all of them are intensely interested in transforming the territory contiguous to their lines into settled farming districts. It is not philanthropy, but business, and extremely good business at that.

It means the growth of towns along their lines and of well-populated and prosperous farming communities, and this in turn means the constant multiplication of passenger and freight traffic. In short, to the railroad official it means the difference between good business and little or no business.

* * * * *

All of the trans-continental lines are doing excellent work of this kind, but here in eastern Colorado we are most interested in the efforts of the Rock Island because it is accomplishing splendid results in the building up of a section of territory which is destined to contribute largely to the business welfare of Colorado Springs. Its agricultural commissioner, Professor Cottrell, has probably done more practical work for the benefit of the farmers hereabouts than anybody else, with the possible exception of County Agent Hauck. Scientific methods, adapted to local conditions, have been introduced with remarkable success, and the results are becoming apparent in the wonderfully increased production of all kinds of farm products.

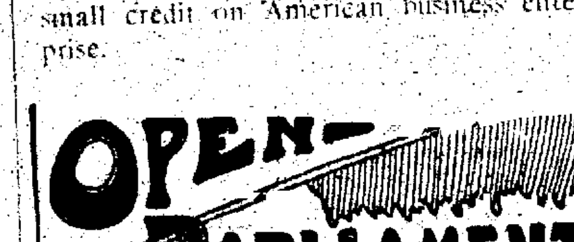

At the present rate of progress it will not be many years until the entire region between Colorado Springs and the Kansas line will be a well-settled and highly productive farming district, and the credit for this development will be due largely to the effective work of the Rock Island and other railroads.

TIME TO WAKE UP

A WASHINGTON dispatch says that "Representative Metz, who is in communication with users of dyestuffs in the United States, said at the White House that there was practically no supply of dyestuffs on hand in the United States at present, and only a few days' supply in prospect. American textile mills are practically dependent upon German dyestuffs."

Well, if they are, it is a safe bet that it is their own fault. The war began more than seven months ago, and they knew on the first day just what it meant to them. The matter of American dependence on Germany for dyestuffs has been pretty thoroughly discussed since then, and it has been shown that the only reason for this dependence is that American chemical manufacturers have always been content to sit back and let the Germans keep the market, merely because they already had it.

Competent authorities declare that the dyestuffs and other coal-tar products, including certain widely used medicines, which we import in such great quantities from Germany, can be made here as well and as cheaply as anywhere. If after seven months of war and curtailed supply, wholesale dealers in these classes of goods are still depending on Germany for their supplies, they have small reason for complaint if they are now cut off entirely. Such an attitude of helplessness reflects small credit on American business enterprise.

HOW THE INFLUENCE OF A GREAT LIFE OUTLIVES THE MAN

To the Editor of The Gazette:

As tomorrow, March 4, marks the fiftieth anniversary of the second inauguration of Abraham Lincoln as president of these United States, it may not be out of place for probably the only man living in Colorado who witnessed that occurrence to call to the attention of the youth, especially, of our community the fact that Mr. Lincoln never used tobacco, and how that simple fact led the writer of this to abandon its use at an early age.

On March 4, 1865, the writer, then a boy lacking less than six months of 15, a page in the national house of representatives, stood on a [illegible] separating the Capitol building from East Capitol park listening intently to the now historical and famous address of Mr. Lincoln. During three years in Washington as a page I had many opportunities to see, and several to meet, Mr. Lincoln personally, and had adopted him as my ideal of a great and good man. As do too many boys, I had acquired the habit of smoking at a tender age, and at this time was, for a mere youth, an excessive smoker of cigars.

While looking at the man and listening to his address, the thought came to me that if Abraham Lincoln had, at 15 years of age, been spending his time and money and vitality in smoking tobacco as I was doing he never would have reached the high place he had and have become president of the United States. The idea seemed to take possession of me and, perhaps only as a sudden impulse, I threw away the cigar I was smoking and resolved that I would never smoke again.

It will be 50 years this Thursday morning since I smoked my last cigar, and for no act of my life have I had greater reason for thankfulness than for that boyish yet manly act, brought about solely by the desire to imitate and be, in some respect, like the great man before me.

That the influence of his example will [illegible] perhaps several generations will be granted when I state that I have raised a family who [illegible] earliest infancy were taught to detest smoking as a filthy, expensive and entirely useless habit. My sons are nonsmokers, my sons-in-law are, with one exception, nonsmokers, and it is safe to predict that, with no inherited appetite for and every influence against its use, my five grandsons will grow up nonsmokers. Carry this influence on 50 years longer and who can predict the number of nonsmokers there may be in the year 1960 due directly to the unspoken, but personal, influence of Abraham Lincoln?

Had I continued as I began, it is a conservative estimate that I have saved one dollar a day for the past 50 years, or a total of $18,250, which has gone into food, clothing, boots and shoes, and education of a family, instead of into the coffers of the tobacco trust.

NO SURRENDER

From the Chicago Tribune.

In present day sea fights a ship wins or runs away or sinks. There is no surrender. No commander has struck his flag. No warships have been taken as prizes, and it does not seem probable that after the war there will be any references such as "The Insatiable, formerly the Ueber Alles," or "The Kronprinz, formerly the Tipperary."

In the days of sail and wood a commander fought his ship until it became unmanageable. If he was out of action and pressed he surrendered. He was apt to lose his motive force more readily than the modern ship, but his craft remained afloat. The ship struck its flag or a boarding party received the commander's sword on his own deck after all resistance had been beaten down.

Now a surrender seems to be outside the calculations of either the victor or the vanquished. A report giving the details of the fleet action in the North sea relates that the Indomitable was instructed to put the crippled Bluecher out of action and that the Arethusa was ordered to finish her. The latter fired two torpedoes, both of which took effect. The ship disappeared after the second explosion. An incredible detail of the report is that as the second torpedo was released a British officer shouted to the Germans to jump. The survivors were picked up.

In the old days a ship in the helpless condition of the Bluecher would have surrendered and there would have been no reflection upon the courage of crew or commander. There were wooden ships which sank in action and there were commanders who fought crippled ships until they won, but when a ship was out of action with an effective enemy on top of it the fight was over and the flag came down.

It may be assumed now that there is no such thing as a ship wholly out of action until it is actually sinking. One shell put the Lion out of the North sea fight and that shell might have come from a ship which had only one big gun working.

NO PRECEDENT

From the Milwaukee Sentinel.

A London paper remarks that in view of our own high-handed and illegal act in the Trent affair during the Civil war, we Americans might consider ourselves estopped from complaining of the comparatively moderate and not illegal British exercise of the right of search and detention in this war.

That might be a sounder argument, but for the omission of an important factor.

It will be remembered that the British mail steamer Trent was forcibly stopped on the high seas by the American war vessel San Jacinto and boarded by an armed party, who seized two passengers, the Confederate envoys, Mason and Slidell, who were carried as prisoners to the San Jacinto and thereafter imprisoned in one of the forts in Boston harbor.

Certainly a most high-handed act on the part of that blunt sailor, Capt. Wilkes, which has had no parallel as yet in the exercise of the right of search for contraband in the present war.

But it just as certainly forms no precedent against our government. For our government recognized the illegality of the act, President Lincoln saying: "We cannot abandon our own principles. We shall have to give these men up and apologize for what we have done."

In short, the United States government was as ready to repair the wrong it did in the Trent case as it was firm in claiming redress for the wrong it suffered in the Alabama case.

THE TARIFF AS FORD SEES IT

From the Kansas City Times.

I think that the tariff should be abolished entirely. I believe in free trade all over the world. If we had it things would adjust themselves and we would all be better off.

These aren't the words of a "theorist." They are the words of one of the most successful business men in the United States, Henry Ford, the automobile manufacturer, quoted in the New York Evening Sun.

Mr. Ford's sells his cars all over the world in competition with the "pauper labor of Europe" and every other continent. He doesn't feel the need of protection. He knows that he can take care of himself without any help from the government. He has that confidence in his own ability and in the ability of his workmen.

It's the lame duck, or else the fellow who wants more than his share, that is always pleading for a handout from Uncle Sam in the shape of tariff duties.

SAD CASE OF RECURRENT HABITS

From Life.

Germany's familiar boast of how the kaiser by main strength kept the peace for 44 years amounts only to this, that it was 44 years ago last summer since the Germans have made a successful raid on their neighbors' territory.

They have been assisted in the cultivation of self-restraint by the forethought of the adjacent nations in getting together and providing means to stand them off. It is said that after so long a spell of good conduct Germany should relapse, but bad habits are very obstinate, and only too often it happens that what seems a complete recovery is suddenly marred after many years by a calamitous downfall.

Germany has almost universal sympathy in her present terrible fit of hereditary predatory mania, and all her dear neighbors are in dead earnest in endeavoring to provide that her next cure shall be permanent.

LOYALTY AT A DISCOUNT

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Bourtzeff, the Russian revolutionist, has been sentenced to Siberia. Offhand one is inclined to congratulate him. Even a moderately cozy domicile in Siberia seems preferable to fighting on the snow-swept plains of Poland among the frozen bogs of Prussia or in the bitter blizzards of the Carpathians or the Caucasus. For the first time in history the man against the government in Russia seems to fare better than the loyalist.

UNCENSORED

From the Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

It will be noticed that the European censors never go so far as to stop noncombatant appeals to America for aid. That's where our neutrality is a very present help in trouble.

There are some folks who don't want to see this country in war who do want to see just how far they can go without involving it.

From the Toledo Blade.

VERDUN

Verdun, the greatest fortress in France, is a little city of 13,000 people, surrounded by nine-and-gun clad hills.

Verdun is France's repartee to Metz, which sits across the border, not far away, and is so fiercely fortified that an English sparrow has to imitate a Hartz canary before it can get through the lines. Verdun has 18 large forts and 30 small ones, each one bristling with guns and armored with steel, concrete, barbed wire and granite. Not a single one of these forts has fallen so far, but this is not because they are stuffed with guns. It is because they have been protected with spades.

War changes all things, and it has done away with the ancient custom of using a fort to protect an army. Nowadays, the army goes out in front of a fort, digs trenches and protects the fort, while the garrison plays checkers and dusts off the big guns. The forts of Verdun have done wonders in the last 40 years in warding off insomnia from the French nation, but their work is over.

The only way to keep a fort in a good state of preservation nowadays is to keep the enemy entirely away from it. If the Germans get within ten miles of Verdun, they will begin building concrete foundations and getting on them guns with mouths like the crater of Vesuvius. A little later the forts of Verdun would rise into the air in a confused manner, and retire from the landscape amid general regret.

Verdun has been in the fort business for almost two thousand years. It belonged to the Belgians 1,900 years ago, and after the Romans had captured it, they admitted that the Belgians were tougher than the Goths and the smallpox combined. Later on, the Austrians, Germans and French took turns in occupying Verdun and daring the world to come on—which it did in each instance.

Peaceful towns like London, which has never had anything worse than a great fire, or a Wat Tyler rebellion, would not be so agitated over airship raids if they had had a little of Verdun's experience. An airship raid would be a pleasant diversion for Verdun, after having entertained five varieties of conquerors in its shell-spangled past.

SIDE TALKS

ON SIMPLIFYING

BY RUTH CAMERON

"Where can I simplify my work?" and "How can I get out of the food rut I am in?" are two questions which over-driven, monotony-wearied housewives frequently ask themselves.

Though I am not a housekeeping expert I want to make one suggestion which, it seems to me, would help answer both these questions.

Why Not a Simple Dessert?

Couldn't you simplify and at the same time vary your desserts without working a hardship to your family?

Many housewives seem to feel that the pleasure experienced from a dessert is in direct ratio to the cost, and the time it takes to prepare it. I don't think this is necessarily so.

"Suppose some night, instead of a pudding or pie, you try serving toast and honey or marmalade and tea or coffee, and see if your family does not enjoy the change.

Whipped cream is a luxury in the average family. Cookies and cocoa with plenty of fluffy whip cream isn't such a bad dessert.

A very simple though rather expensive dessert for children is sweetened white of egg beaten up stiff, and orange juice.

It is my personal experience that after a hearty meal a hearty pie or pudding is really more than the stomach requires. We eat it because we are used to it but I don't think you would find yourself hungry or dissatisfied if some light little top-off were occasionally substituted.

Balancing Meat and Dessert.

I know of one family where the housekeeper makes it a rule to balance the meat course and dessert. If she is to have a rather light dinner such as a stew or cold meat she serves a hearty dessert. If she is to have an especially hearty first course such as a hot roast or steak, potatoes and two vegetables, she serves simply cheese, common crackers and coffee, or fancy crackers and tea, or salted nuts and crackers, or simply fruit for a top-off.

In [illegible] family where they are [illegible] fruit is often entirely [illegible] off with [illegible].

CURE FOR MORPHINE HABIT

A ruling by the collector of internal revenue shuts off drug users from their supply. Evasion of a federal law is a risky procedure. Taking the cure is painful and troublesome, but settling with the federal authorities is worse and more of it.

There are hundreds of thousands of drug users. In the entire country there are not 5,000 beds available for cures for drug users. Those who can do so should go to institutions. Taking the cure outside of an institution is far more risky and far less satisfactory, than inside one. But where the number of institution beds is so small and the number of those in need is so large many must be cared for in private homes under the close care of physicians and nurses.

In view of this situation an article by Dr. W. K. McLaughlin in the Chicago Medical Recorder for February is timely. We give his statement of the Towns morphine cure method.

"Start Sunday morning at 8 a. m. Give five compound cathartic pills and five grains of blue mass. At 2 p. m. unless the bowels have moved freely, a dose of salts is given. Some time during the middle of the afternoon the bowels having moved three times, the patient is given two-thirds his total daily dose of morphine. It is given by mouth or by hypodermic as the patient wishes.

"The amount of the drug is divided into three parts. One-third is given at, say, 3 p. m., one-third at 3:30. Unless the patient is fully under the influence of his drug he is given the last third at 4 p. m. At 4 p. m. he is given six drops (not minims) of the following belladonna mixture: Tincture of belladonna (15 per cent strength), two ounces; fluid extract of xanthoxyll, one ounce; fluid extract of hyoscyamus, one ounce.

"Give six drops of the belladonna mixture at 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 p. m. Then increase the dose to eight drops and give one dose every hour until 3 a. m. Then increase to 10 drops and give every hour until 9 o'clock Monday morning, then 12 drops every hour until 3 p. m.; then 14 drops every hour until 9 o'clock Monday night, then 16 drops every hour until the throat becomes very dry from the belladonna.

"This is dangerously powerful drugging and it should not be undertaken except under close observation.

"Ten hours after the first dose of morphine (about 1 o'clock Monday morning) give five compound cathartic pills and five grains of blue mass. At 9 o'clock Monday morning give a dose of salts unless the last cathartic has acted freely, say about 5 o'clock Monday morning—give the second round of opium. Half the amount given on Sunday afternoon is the amount to be given. It is divided into three doses. These are taken at 5, 5:30 and 6 o'clock Monday morning.

"Ten hours later, say at 4 in the afternoon, five compound cathartic pills and five grains of blue mass are given. After these have acted thoroughly, say, about 10 at night, a third dose of opium is given. The amount given should be one-sixth the 24-hour quantity used by the drug user. The next morning (Tuesday) at 6 o'clock five compound cathartic pills and five grains of blue mass are given. At noon a dose of salts is given. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon two ounces of castor oil is given.

"In most cases the belladonna can be stopped on Tuesday night. During Tuesday it is necessary in some cases to give a simple sedative. Care in diet and good nursing for several days after Tuesday are necessary."

substitute a dish of fudge or molasses candy for the regular dessert. The children will probably be glad to make it themselves.

Questions and Answers.

Question. Mrs. F. O. B. wants to know "where I can get a simple, inexpensive book on food values."

Answer. You can get an excellent little book on this subject that will cost you nothing but a postcard. The United States department of agriculture publishes a pamphlet called "Principles of Nutrition and the Nutritive Value of Food." It is very simple, very clear and will be very helpful, if after you get it you will really study it. Write to the United States department of agriculture at Washington and ask for Farm Bulletin No. 142.

Question. A letter friend wants to know the birthstones of the various months.

Answer. I usually answer questions asking my personal opinion rather than those dealing with matters of precise information which the inquirer could look up for himself. But in this [illegible] I happen to have a [illegible] at hand. January, garnet; February, amethyst; March, bloodstone; April, diamond; May, emerald; June, agate; July, ruby; August, sardonyx; September, sapphire; October, opal; November, topaz; December, turquoise.

HERE COMES ANOTHER LEPER STORY.

Interested writes: "There is a story circulating about a young woman who fell down and cut her head slightly, and took the handkerchief proffered by her escort to stanch the flow of blood. A few days afterward she was taken ill and the case was diagnosed as one of leprosy. This was traced to a Chinese laundry, where the young man's handkerchief had been laundered. In the basement of this laundry lived an old Chinaman afflicted with leprosy. Can this be true? Is it possible for leprosy to be communicated in this manner? Can leprosy be developed in so short a time as a week from the date of the supposed infection?"

REPLY.

The story is untrue. Leprosy is a mildly contagious disease. It could not be spread by a contact so slight. Of the people thrown in close contact with lepers, only a few develop the disease. There is no danger from ordinary street contact with a leper. Leprosy cannot develop in a week after contact.

I have investigated several leprosy stories similar to this one. They are fakes of the worst sort. Somewhere down the line the story starts from a liar of the ordinary variety. Exaggerators supply some details. The stories are rolled on the tongue, repeated, embellished, glossed, and believed by people who are otherwise sane and well balanced.

BARS MORPHINE USERS.

R. W. writes: "I have three friends who are more or less addicted to the use of morphine, and they fear the humiliation of exposure, when the new law goes into effect on March 1. What should they do?"

REPLY.

The commissioner of internal revenue has ruled that drug users shall not be allowed to buy the blanks necessary for the purchase of drugs.

Your friends should take a cure. They should have all the moral support their friends can give them during the period of readjustment after the cure.

LOWEST HUMIDITY POINT.

E. K. C. writes: "What is the lowest normal or hygienic degree of relative humidity for the living rooms of a dwelling house?"

REPLY.

Forty is the lowest. 50 is better. 70 is the top limit.

Ministers Will Fight Sunday Amusements

At a special meeting of the Ministerial association yesterday resolutions were adopted unanimously expressing the association's opposition to the movement now under way to permit Sunday amusements of a stated character in Colorado Springs. The resolution adopted was as follows:

"That this association reaffirm its unalterable opposition to the movement to open the places of public amusement in Colorado Springs on Sunday for pay; and if the question shall be submitted at the forthcoming election, we will employ all honorable means to defeat it."

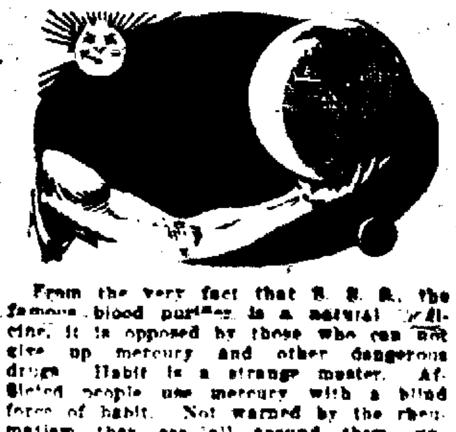

Those in charge of the petitions state that they are having no trouble in securing the number of names required, and that their lists will be completed today.

Blood Remedy Sustains World

Myriads Have Learned of Its Remarkable Curative Value.

From the very fact that S. S. S. the famous blood purifier is a natural medicine, it is opposed by those who can not give up mercury and other dangerous drugs. Habit is a strange master. SPRINGS YOUTH TELLS OF CRUISE ON S. S. MARYLAND

Answers S. O. S. Call From Wrecked Steamer, but Shallow Water Keeps Vessel 10 Miles Away

The life of a midshipman which combines the pleasures of cruising with the novel ordeal of school on shipboard, is told in a letter from C. O. Hamrick, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Hamrick of this city, and at present on the U. S. S. Maryland, off Mazatlan, Mexico. The letter follows in part:

"Still on board the U. S. S. Maryland, hard at work in school. We are still cruising down here, and no one is allowed to go on shore except the officers. I should like to explore a small portion of Mexico anyway, but probably the officers know what is best for us. However, by having no shore leave I have more time for studies.

"In a storm several days ago we received an S. O. S. signal from the Colon; she had run aground near a small bay in the Gulf of California. It took all day at full speed to reach her. We were all dreaming of becoming great heroes when we got there, by rescuing the passengers and crew. When we did get there we could not get closer to the ship than 10 miles on account of shallow water.

Baby Born on Battleship.

"The good ship Annapolis took the people off for us. We had to take them to Mazatlan. On the way a woman gave birth to a baby boy, the first on the Maryland, I guess, and rather a novel experience for a battleship.

"It was quite a contrast to see the Mexican people on our ship, with her crew in spotless white. We have just two months more of school. I suppose the navy is the only place in the world where you can get an education and get paid for getting it.

"There are rumors of our sailing for the states soon, but we can't tell definitely yet. The Cleveland is sailing today for home."

Uncle Sam Offers Several Good Jobs; Examinations Soon

The United States civil service commission is offering examinations for positions paying salaries which total about $18,000 a year, according to C. B. Thomas, secretary of the local board of examiners. The positions are well scattered in the agricultural and scientific field. The list:

March 30, chemical engineer (male), salary $1,800 to $2,400 a year; April 6, specialist in school and home gardening (male), $3,000; technical assistant in pharmacology (male), $2,000; market assistant (male), $1,800 to $2,100; expert landscape architect and designer (male), $2,400; artist draftsman (male), $1,200 to $1,440; April 7, grazing assistant (male), $1,200; subinspector (male), $4.48 a day; assistant inspector of engineering material (male), $4.48 a day; landscape architect and draftsman (male), $90 a month.

All those wishing to take the examinations and desiring further instructions should apply to Mr. Thomas at his office in the federal building.

ANNUAL SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION APRIL 12-16

The annual convention of the El Paso County Sunday School association will be held in Colorado Springs April 12 to 16. All the Sunday school organizations in the county, of which there are about 85, will be represented at the meeting.

A list of speakers is being prepared, which will include several prominent Denver men and delegates from the State Agricultural college. The convention will be held in one of the city churches, and will consist of the business meeting and a school of methods. There will be an annual election of officers.

This evening there will be a joint meeting of the members of the association and the laymen's gospel teams at the Y. M. C. A. The meeting will begin at 7:45 o'clock and will be devoted to a discussion as to whether or not the gospel teams cooperate with the members of the Sunday School association in the convention. If they do, a special evening will be set aside for the gospel teams.

FOREST SERVICE ISSUES WARNING AGAINST FIRES

The possibility of a dangerous spring and summer fire season in the Pike and other national forests in the west is presaged by reports that two forest fires, one in the Pike forest, west of Colorado Springs, occurred in January, and that the snowfall in the entire Rocky Mountain region and in the foothills has been much below normal, the forest service announces.

January fires are almost unheard of in the national forests and the snow reports are regarded as especially significant, as they indicate that unless the deficiency is made up the forests will be dry earlier in the spring than usual, with consequent increases of the fire menace.

The fires reported occurred in the Pike forest in Colorado and in the Black hills forest in South Dakota. The latter is believed to have been of incendiary origin, according to the district forester at Denver. The total area burned over covered 75 acres.

The district forester at Ogden, Utah, in charge of the national forests in Nevada, Utah and southern Idaho, reported that the snow in this region also is far below normal.

VARIOUS INTERESTS WILL BE REPRESENTED ON TOUR

Meeting at 4 Today to Map Out Plans for Sociability Run to Chicago in April

Practically every interest in Colorado Springs and the Pikes Peak region will be represented on the automobile sociability run to Chicago, which is scheduled to leave here April 10, if the plans of those interested are carried out. Mining men are discussing the sending of an automobile in view of the recent big discoveries in Cripple Creek, and plan to do a little publicity work for the gold camp in this way. An official car will be included on the tour to represent the hotel men of the city, and the automobile and garage owners probably will send a machine to look after their interests.

A movement is being started among the ranchers and farmers to send a car to represent the agricultural interests of the region and, altogether, the tour promises to be the most unique yet undertaken in this region. The Manitou Springs Commercial club is not to be left out and, together with the Manitou Mineral Water company, will send an official car. The Chamber of Commerce, which is directing the trip, will, of course, have an official automobile to head the tour, and a Gazette-Telegraph car will represent the newspaper interests of Colorado Springs. There also is a possibility that some of the homes and institutions will unite in sending an automobile.

A big meeting of all those interested in the trip will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce. It is hoped that everyone will make a special effort to attend, as it will have an important bearing on the trip. Special invitations are not necessary.

ASKS COUNCIL TO REPEAL ANNEXATION ORDINANCE

Chamber of Commerce Points Out That It Is Now Useless to Vote on Measure

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday it was recommended that the city council repeal the annexation ordinance, passed recently, in view of the action, or lack of action, at the meeting of the Colorado City council Monday. This step was taken as the ordinance will not be voted on at the spring election in Colorado City.

The appropriation for the Midland band concerts as recommended by the tourist-travel committee was accepted by the board and placed in the 1915 budget. The plans also were approved and the tentative schedule accepted, but subject to revision by the city council. Application for membership to the Chamber of Commerce by Ralph Boothby, the new headmaster of St. Stephens school, was accepted and passed. The budget campaign was referred to the finance committee for further work on the plans. The plan to have the government make a national park out of Pikes Peak came before the meeting. The matter of appointing a committee to confer with the government officials March 19 was referred to Chairman J. W. Atkinson of the advertising committee. The legislative committee reported on the various bills now before the house.

The matter of appointing a committee to investigate the possibilities of the development of Colorado Springs interests in Aspen was referred to the trades and industries committee. This request was made by Judge Dean of Aspen at the annual dinner of the association.

D. W. BUCHANAN TO TELL OF SINGLE TAX IN CANADA

A single tax meeting will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the court house, at which D. W. Buchanan of Winnipeg, Canada, president of the Single Tax league of western Canada, will be the chief speaker. Mr. Buchanan is affiliated with large commercial and agricultural associations in Canada and is thoroughly posted on the subject. J. W. McCleery of Kansas City will make a short address on the single tax.

There will be no admission and the public is invited.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective.

They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

AGRICULTURAL BUREAU TO BE ORGANIZED MARCH 23

Everyone Interested in Farming, Dairying and Stock Raising Invited to Attend Meeting Here

A special meeting of the officers of all agricultural, poultry and farmers' clubs will be held at the Chamber of Commerce, March 23, for the purpose of organizing an agricultural bureau in El Paso county. This meeting will take the place of an institute meeting here and is in line with a series of meetings to be held in Pueblo and El Paso counties the last week in March. All those interested are invited to attend. The meeting will be informal and will consist of round-table talks.

The Farmers institute meetings will be held as follows: March 22, Monument; March 23, Colorado Springs; March 24, Fountain; March 25, Pinon; March 25, Pueblo; and March 26, Swallows. The meetings will be under the auspices of the State Agricultural college, the agricultral department of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad and the Pueblo and El Paso county agents. Farmers, stock men and farm women are invited to attend.

45,000 Shares of Robert Burns Go $7.50 Per Thousand

Forty-five thousand shares of Robert Burns stock changed hands yesterday on the exchange at $7.50 per 1,000. This represents an advance of 400 per cent over the last sale some time ago at $2 pr 1,000. Owing to the inactivity of the stock, the advance yesterday caused some surprise on the exchange. The stock closed at .0075 bid, .008 asked.

The advance in the stock probably was due to resumption of development work at the mine. About three weeks ago a lease was given on the property and work commenced. Previous to that the claim lay idle. It consists of 12 acres, adjoining the Maid of Orleans claim of the El Paso company, and about seven acres on Bull and Tenderfoot hills. W. A. Perkins is president of the company and A. D. Aitken, secretary.

Two thousand shares of Vindicator stock changed hands at $1.30, 100 shares selling at $1.32, following the announcement of the purchase of the Golden Cycle mine by the Vindicator and the consequent settling of the suit for $1,000,000, brought by the Vindicator for ore, alleged to have been taken from its territory by the Golden Cycle. Last week the stock closed at $1.25. It closed today at $1.30 bid and $1.35 asked.

J. H. GRIFFITH DIES IN DENVER; FUNERAL TODAY

J. H. Griffith, one of the oldest curio dealers in Manitou, died at the Windsor hotel in Denver Monday afternoon. The body has been brought to Colorado Springs and the funeral will be held from the Elks home this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

For the last 25 years Griffith had been in business in Manitou, achieving success in handling curios. He amassed wealth and at the time of his death was a large property holder in Manitou. He came to Colorado from his home in Vermont 35 years ago, and for several years was identified with the Rio Grande Railroad company at Leadville.

Before entering the curio business he was an agent and advertising man for the Rio Grande. He is survived by a widow and a brother, the latter living in Poultney, Vt., and who is here to attend the funeral.

Griffith's death was due to pneumonia and other complications, following an illness of several months.

Firemen's Ordinance Referred to People

The city council yesterday declined to pass the ordinance putting into effect in Colorado Springs the two-platoon system for the fire department, the commissioners expressing the opinion that the decision should be left to the voters at the coming election. A resolution was adopted, however, submitting the question to the people at the April election. The single tax initiated ordinance was received and referred to the clerk to certify to the signatures.

The council awarded the contract for auditing the city's books to Harace H. Mitchell, for $425. John H. Baker submitted a bid of $15 a day, estimating the total cost at $750.

WATER SUPERINTENDENT FILES FEBRUARY REPORT

Streams in the Pikes Peak watershed are supplying almost as much water as Colorado Springs is using, according to the monthly report to the city council yesterday of B. B. McReynolds, water superintendent. Last month the daily stream flow was 4,800,000 gallons, while the city used 5,323,938 gallons a day.

Following are the storage figures:

Reservoir No. 7	20,000,000
Reservoir No. 8	185,000,000
Reservoir No. 2	180,000,000
Reservoir No. 4	592,000,000
Reservoir No. 5	540,000,000
Lake Moraine	178,000,000
Total	1,675,000,000

The amount stored for irrigating purposes is 280,000,000 gallons.

SANTA FE DECLINES TO FILE REPORT WITH CITY

The Santa Fe railroad has declined to submit an annual report to the city council, on the grounds that the city has no constitutional right to make such a demand. At the council meeting yesterday Mayor McKisson said that he believed the city had no such right to force a report.

The council granted the application of the Prompt Pharmacy for a liquor license.

The council heard D. W. Buchanan, president of the Western Canadian Single Tax league, who said that single tax had not failed in his portion of the country. There were no remarks from the commissioners.

GERMANY CAN EXPORT GOODS BRITAIN NEEDS

English Consent to This Plan Even at That There Are Some Protests

LONDON, March 3.—Exportation from Germany of such goods as Great Britain desires and is able to obtain from that country will be permitted by the British government, notwithstanding the declaration of Premier Asquith that Great Britain and her allies would prevent commodities of all kinds from reaching or leaving Germany. This point was made clear in a statement regarding the blockade policy which was believed in the house of commons today by Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade.

Admiral Lord Charles Beresford asked whether aniline dyes from Germany would be admitted to England. Mr. Runciman replied that persons licensed by the government to import aniline dyes would be permitted to continue to bring them in, since these dyes were necessary for the purpose of the war office, the admiralty and civil industry.

It was suggested that if German goods continued to be brought in it would be impossible for Great Britain to prevent Germany from exporting goods to America. Mr. Runciman declined to discuss this point. He added: "If it is necessary that we should get, and if we can get some goods from Germany, for instance, if we require explosives and can get them from Germany, we certainly shall do so."

PAY DIVIDENDS ON WATER STOCK INSTEAD OF WAGES

Engineers' Counsel Shows Practice of Roads of Capitalizing Debts

CHICAGO, March 3.—Alleged watered stock in railroad companies occupied the attention of the board of arbitration in the western wage case today.

W. J. Lauck, a statistician, stated that $1,276,495 in dividends on watered stock were paid by 10 representative western railroad systems in 1913, or about two millions more than enough to have advanced the pay of the engineers and firemen, who are seeking higher wages, by 25 per cent.

James M. Sheean, attorney for the 98 western railroads involved in the arbitration, took exception to the methods by which Mr. Lauck calculated the amount of so-called overcapitalization. He asked questions to bring out that Lauck had taken no account of immense early investments on which no returns were received for many years. Money sunk in the Chicago Great Western before the reorganization in 1909, and in the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, served as illustrations.

More than two hundred millions of Santa Fe stock, Mr. Lauck characterized as fictitious, but, replying to Mr. Sheean, he said that he did not mean that the property might not now be worth every cent of its capitalization. He considered that the six millions profit said to have been made by the Morgan syndicate in the reorganization of the Great Western was excessive. He considered that more than half of the securities of this road were "water."

Mr. Lauck said that the purpose of his testimony was to show that the practice of railroads of capitalizing the debts, their actual value and their future hopes formed a lien on the revenues which would compel labor to wait forever for wage advances if these were to come only when dividends become large.

How Soldiers of Europe Fight.

The up-to-date soldier is taught to hide—he learns to dig under fire, laying down and scooping out a depression for his body protection—if he's not ordered to charge—he may get time to dig a hole for his legs. It takes two hours for men to dig a trench deep enough to stand in and hide from the enemy's sight. Soldiers lay in water—or stand knee-high in water in trenches and await the attack—this is where they contract rheumatism or sickness.

Pluck and stamina are largely a question of good health. It only takes one knock-down blow to finish a man with a headache. It only takes a small setback to disconcert a nervous and shaky man. A bilious headachy man goes into bankruptcy at the first embarrassment. A nervous man who does not sleep at night and gets up shaky in the morning gives up the battle of business at the first discouragement. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of all health-makers and health-keepers. It makes pure, rich, red blood. It forces out all impurities and disease germs. It does not make any difference what the disease may be called, so long as it has its inception in improper or insufficient nourishment—this great medicine will cure it. It may be called dyspepsia, kidney disease, "liver complaint," skin or blood disease, or nervous prostration—all these have the same starting point. The "Golden Medical Discovery" reaches that point. It will cure these diseases absolutely. None of them can retain their hold on the system when the arteries are filled with rich, pure blood.

The stomach is the center of the body from which radiates our vitality, strenuosity, our fighting strength. A healthy stomach turns the food we eat into nourishment for the blood stream and the nerves. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery refreshes and tones up the stomach walls. Removes the poisonous gases from the system.

The first day you start to take this reliable medicine, impure germs and accumulations begin to separate in the blood and are then expelled through the Liver, Bowels and Kidneys.

In place of the impurities the arteries and veins gradually get fresh vitalized blood and the action of this good blood on the skin means that pimples, boils, carbuncles, eczema, rash, acne and all skin blemishes will disappear. Then you must remember that when the blood is right, the liver, stomach, bowels and kidneys become healthy, active and vigorous and you will have no more trouble with indigestion, backache, headache and constipation.

Get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to-day in tablet or liquid form at any medicine dealers. If dealers do not keep the tablets you can obtain them by mail from Dr. Pierce for fifty cents or one dollar. It is a powerful blood purifier, so penetrating that it even gets at the impure deposits in the joints and carries them out of the system.

It is not a secret remedy for its ingredients are printed on wrapper. It is a temperance medicine because it is made with chemically pure glycerine from roots and barks and contains no alcohol or narcotics.

For free advice or free booklet on blood, write Doctor V. M. Pierce Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of 3 dimes or 30 one-cent stamps to pay expense of wrapping and mailing only.

ERB TO FUND FLOATING DEBT OF MOFFAT ROAD

Plans Also Purchase of Large Amount of New Equipment: Business Better

DENVER, March 3.—Advices from New York state that negotiations practically are completed for funding the floating debt of the Denver & Salt Lake (Moffat) railroad, meeting the semiannual interest on its first mortgage bonds for the year, due May 1 and November 1, and providing a considerable sum for the purchase of new equipment.

Newman Erb, president of the company, announced that six Mikado locomotives of the heaviest type and 200 coal cars will be required, and should be provided before July 1.

The gross revenue of the road from July 1 to December 1, 1914, was $[illegible], an increase of $[illegible], or 14 per cent, over the corresponding period of the preceding year.

The results of operation for the first six months of the current fiscal year [illegible] surplus over all charges and [illegible] of net earnings for [illegible] equal to all [illegible] charges for the entire year.

[illegible] that the output of coal [illegible] from the mines along the [illegible] road prior to May 1 [illegible] [illegible] developments and those [illegible] that the total tonnage [illegible] annually within [illegible] years.

Coal Firms Plan Development.

Among the companies that are planning new development of coal properties along the line of the road, or have already begun such development, are the Colorado-Utah Coal company, the John McNeil Coal company, the Morrison Coal company, the Curtis-Ranson Coal company and the Allen-McKinley Coal company.

The [illegible] Fuel company has also purchased considerable coal property along the line of the road and is understood to be contemplating its immediate development.

The property of the Colorado-Utah company is about 15 miles west of Steamboat Springs. Most of these companies will put in spur tracks to their mines within a few weeks.

Anthracite Field to Open.

The companies named are all operating in the bituminous coal fields. There is also considerable development planned for the anthracite fields, which will start as soon as the weather will permit.

Speaking the refunding plans and their purpose, President Erb says:

"My associates in the management of the company are prompted to furnish the new money required and to fund the obligations which they hold from a conviction that the property will thereby become abundantly able to take care of its interest charges and maturities and establish its credit upon a high plane.

"Under the plan the company will obtain: Proceeds of two-year notes, $245,00; funding of obligations issued for advances, $163,962; through founding of coupons from first mortgage bonds, approximately $250,000; total $658,000. It will be relieved of its entire floating debt and left in a position where its surplus earnings will be more than sufficient to meet the demands made upon it through expansion of business."

Erb Investments $2,250,000.

President Erb and his associates have invested approximately $2,250,000 cash in the property since they assumed control in 1913. Of this amount $960,000 was devoted to the 40-mile extension to Craig, which cost the road approximately $1,200,000, of the first mortgage bonds.

GERMANY CAN EXPORT GOODS BRITAIN NEEDS

LONDON, March 3.—Exportation from Germany of such goods as Great Britain desires and is able to obtain from that country will be permitted by the British government, notwithstanding the declaration of Premier Asquith that Great Britain and her allies would prevent commodities of all kinds from reaching or leaving Germany. This point was made clear in a statement regarding the blockade policy which was delivered in the house of commons today by Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade.

Admiral Lord Charles Beresford asked whether aniline dyes from Germany would be admitted to England. Mr. Runciman replied that persons licensed by the government to import aniline dyes would be permitted to continue to bring them in, since these dyes were necessary for the purpose of the war office, the admiralty and civil industry.

It was suggested that if German goods could come to be brought in it would be impossible for Great Britain to prevent Germany from exporting goods to America. Mr. Runciman declined to discuss this point. He added: "It is necessary that we should get [illegible] we can get some goods from Germany. For instance, if we require [illegible] we shall do so."

KAISER ABANDONING SUBMARINE WARFARE

Must Do So, Says Authority, if He Lives Up to Terms of American Note

BERLIN, via London, March 3.—Count von Reventlow, a writer on naval subjects, has an article in today's Tages Zeitung in which he expresses his thorough displeasure, both with the American note to Germany concerning the naval war zone and the submarine blockade of the British Isles and the German answer to this communication.

In this, Germany substantially agrees to accept many of the informal suggestions of the United States made with the idea of bettering the situation arising from the carrying out of the German blockade and the British retaliatory measures, provided Great Britain yields on her side in certain directions, particularly in the matter of shutting out all food shipments to Germany.

In his attitude of opposition this writer is almost alone among German commentators, Die Post being the only other paper disposed to express dissatisfaction with the German answer.

Would Hamper Submarines.

Count Von Reventlow says the American proposals would have the effect of making Germany's submarine war impossible and Germany's answer gives heed to this demand. Concerning Germany's willingness to proceed according to the general international rules against hostile and neutral merchantmen provided the abuse of the flag is abandoned, Count Von Reventlow says:

"According to this a German submarine would let a merchantman under the English flag pass by with courteous bows, perhaps with a salute of the flag. To proceed according to international rules would mean putting an end to searching and the possible capture of neutrals and the capture under all circumstances of hostiles. Such a course for German submarines is out of the question. Moreover, even if Great Britain promised to stop the use of false flags there could be no certainty she would keep her promise; Germany would be the loser in any event."

Die Post declares the fact that the United States alleged that its proposals were based on upright friendship and the interests of humanity was enough to make one suspicious at the start. The American proposals have been dictated solely by American business interests, this paper says. If Germany agreed to these proposals she would keep faith, while England would not and the result would hamper Germany's warfare. Hence the German answer was not satisfactory.

Captain Persius, another writer on naval matters and a war correspondent in the service of the Berlin Tageblatt, says he hopes Great Britain will consent to abandon the misuse of flags and the arming of merchantmen. Then neutral powers need have no further concern regarding their ships and their citizens. German submarine commanders also would be freed of a heavy load. If any agreement to this effect was reached the German government could boast of a decided success which it is freely acknowledged could only have been achieved through the support of the United States.

The Morgen Post says the American note is couched in gratifying form and shows more respect for existing conditions than did the first communication from Washington. Taken as a whole the American proposals throughout are worthy of consideration, this paper says.

AMSTERDAM, via London, March 3, 12:55 p. m.—The Cologne Gazette, commenting on Premier Asquith's recent speech in the house of commons when he outlined Great Britain's retaliatory measures for Germany's submarine blockade of the British Isles, says:

"Our submarines will now, we hope, endeavor to destroy all goods destined for Great Britain. Great Britain wishes war to the knife; she shall have it."

MISSOURI LEGISLATURE DENIES RATE INCREASE

Fixes Maximum at 2½ Instead of 3 Cents: Roads Say Fear Bankruptcy

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 3.—The house of the Missouri legislature today virtually denied the railroads' plea for increased rates by adopting a substitute amendment to the public service commission bill fixing the maximum passenger rate at 2½ cents a mile, when the commission, after complete investigation, finds such an increase necessary.

The original amendment would have authorized railroads operating in the state to charge 2½ cents a mile immediately and 3 cents a mile if the commission found the latter increase necessary.

The plea had been made by executive officers of several railroads that unless an increase were granted soon, their roads would be in immediate danger of [illegible].

The present maximum passenger rate as established [illegible] cents a mile.

Tonight! Clean your bowels and stop headache, colds, sour stomach

Get a 10-cent box now.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and bad colds—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels, or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken. Adv.

7,000 ITALIAN RESERVE OFFICERS JOIN COLORS

All Classes Asking to Enter Army, Reports the Minister of War

ROME, March 3.—General Zuppelli, minister of war, speaking yesterday in the chamber of deputies in favor of the bill authorizing the recall of reserve officers, said that at the end of this month 7,000 of these officers would have been summoned to the colors. "All classes in the nation," he said, "are asking to enter the army."

The war minister paid a tribute to those who had offered their services as volunteers, declaring their example was an inspiration to the public to meet "new needs for the defense of the fatherland."

The bill presented by Premier Salandra to prevent espionage provides severe penalties for any attempt to obtain military information. Anyone without authority entering a place where such information is obtained is liable to imprisonment from one to three months and a fine of $600.

The Salandra bill authorizes the government under certain condition to prohibit the publication of military news, providing a penalty of one year in prison or a fine of $1,000.

If news of this character is supplied to a foreign country the penalty is doubled. Provision is made for the government to take over control of every industry connected with the defense of the country, including wireless telegraphy and aviation.

AMERICAN EXPORTS TO GERMANY SHOWS INCREASE

Has Trade Balance of $145,506,996, Mostly Created by Products of Granaries and Farms

WASHINGTON, March 3.—An analysis of America's foreign trade for January, issued today by the department of commerce, showed in detail the amount of the tremendous increases in exports to many European nations and the decrease in shipments of the principal countries of Latin-America as compared with January, 1914. No American products reached Austria during the month, the report showed, but shipments to Germany showed increases as compared with the first months of the war.

The total trade balance in favor of the United States for the month was $145,506,996, most of which was created by products of American granaries and farms. The value of American horses bought for the armies in Europe during January was $7,865,795, and mules exported were worth $1,312,195.

Imports for the month showed a decrease, compared with a year ago, of $32,370,606. Countries whose shipments to the United States showed largest decreases were Belgium, France, European Russia and the United Kingdom. Germany's sales to the United States in January were $12,951,411, compared with $16,256,159 a year ago.

For the seven months ending with January the period of the war, American exports were worth $1,234,-560,145, compared with $1,521,802,536 in the same period one year ago, the huge increases in shipments of foodstuffs not overcoming losses in other items. Imports for the same periods were respectively $930,792,236 and $1,067,742,498.

PAY DIVIDENDS ON WATER STOCK INSTEAD OF WAGES

Enginemen's Counsel Shows Practice of Roads of Capitalizing Debts

CHICAGO, March 3.—Alleged watered stock in railroad companies occupied the attention of the board of arbitration in the western wage case today.

W. J. Lauck, a statistician, stated that $1,276,495 in dividends on watered stock were paid by 10 representative western railroad systems in 1913, or about two millions more than enough to have advanced the pay of the engineers and firemen, who are seeking higher wages, by 25 per cent.

James M. Sheean, attorney for the 98 western railroads involved in the arbitration, took exception to the methods by which Mr. Lauck calculated the amount of so-called overcapitalization. He asked questions to bring out that Lauck had taken no account of immense early investments on which no returns were received for many years. Money sunk in the Chicago Great Western before the reorganization in 1909, and in the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, served as illustrations.

More than two hundred millions of Santa Fe stock, Mr. Lauck characterized as fictitious, but, replying to Mr. Sheean, he said that he did not mean that the property might not now be worth every cent of its capitalization. He considered that the six millions profit said to have been made by the Morgan syndicate in the reorganization of the Great Western was excessive. He considered that more than half of the securities of this road were "water."

Mr. Lauck said that the purpose of his testimony was to show that the practice of railroads of capitalizing the debts, their actual value and their future hopes formed a lien on the revenues which would compel labor to wait forever for wage advances if these were to come only when dividends become too large.

LOWER CALIFORNIANS ARE WARNED NOT TO PAY TAXES

Carranza Governor at Los Angeles Promises Troops to Occupy State Soon

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—Enrique Cota, claiming to be governor of Lower California by appointment of General Carranza, established headquarters here today, after publishing an advertisement warning owners of property in the Mexican territory bordering California not to make any payment for taxes or other considerations to Col. Esteban Cantu, commandant at Mexicali. He also announced that a large force of Carranza troops were on the way to Ensenada on board the gunboat Guerrero. After capturing Ensenada, he said, these troops would inaugurate a vigorous campaign against Cantu.

Cota said his advertisement concerning payments to foes of Carranza was intended to prevent occurrences like the alleged payments made to Baltazar Aviles, who claimed to be Villista governor of Lower California, and which became the basis of federal indictments against Aviles and Harry Chandler of the Los Angeles Times on the charge of having violated American neutrality. Aviles is said to have used the money in connection with a military expedition in Lower California.

FEDERAL WAR RISK BUREAU WORRIED OVER CONDITIONS

Raises Rates on German Commerce: Allies' Plans Make Risks Big

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Although the government war risk insurance bureau is expected to continue for the present the writing of insurance on American ships and cargoes destined for belligerent ports, the attitude of the warring nations toward neutral commerce is giving much concern to both the treasury and state departments.

"The war risk bureau already has felt compelled to raise its rates on insurance to German ports because of the sinking of the American ships Carib and Evelyn, and it is now confronted with the problem of how to meet the situation resulting from the declaration of the allies that commercial intercourse by sea between Germany and the outside world will be stopped.

Experts in international law pointed out tonight that if a blockade actually had been declared the bureau would not be in an embarrassing position, for its policies contain clauses designed to relieve the government of risk where a vessel or cargo carrying insurance is seized in attempting to run a blockade.

Under the announced plan of the allies, however, it was said that if an American cargo or other noncontraband article should be seized and detained, the government might be held liable for the insurance.

The action of private insurance underwriters in New York in specifying that they shall be exempt from liability on account of seizure by the ships of the allies hardly can be adopted by the government bureau. It was argued that a step of this sort would practically mean that the government was not anxious to take any risks of the kind which shippers are most desirous of having cared for.

BELGIAN FOOD SHIPMENTS CAN BE CONTINUED, BELIEF

Mines in Channel Won't Stop Ships If German Submarines Do Not. Bates Says

NEW YORK, March 3.—Confident expectation that food shipments would be continued for the use of destitute noncombatants in Belgium, despite existing conditions in the English channel and the North sea, was expressed in a statement made here tonight by Lindon W. Bates, vice chairman of the Commission for Relief in Belgium.

The German government today informed Dr. Henry Van Dyke, American minister to The Netherlands, that because of the existing mine danger in the war zone it could not grant safe conducts for the commission's ships to and from England, although it would permit relief vessels to pass through the English channel unmolested by submarines if the ships were rendered recognizable by means of the commission's special marks.

Dispatches from The Hague last night stated that the commission's work would be hampered if its ships were not given safe conducts to touch at English ports for coal on the homeward voyage.

THE USEFULNESS OF WIT

From Young's Magazine.

Henry Miller in the following story proves how wit can effectually save a man from humiliation.

"During the Civil war, at a camp in Ohio, a captain fresh from civil life and green in a brand new uniform, happened to observe two men shooting at a target.

"'Here, boys,' said he, 'let me show you how to shoot.'

"Taking a gun in hand, he fired and missed.

"'That,' said he, to one of the soldiers, 'is the way you shoot.'

"He fired again, and missed again.

"'And that,' said he, turning to the other soldier, 'is the way you shoot.'

"He fired a third shot and hit the bull's eye.

"'And that,' said he, 'is the way I shoot.'"

Young Society Matron Lays Down Rules

In discussing the approaching social season, a young matron says that the success of every social, whether at home, church or club, depends upon the foresight of the woman in charge before.

The brilliancy, charm and success of a party is dependent upon the physical condition of the hostess. SUBMARINE PICTURES

Dorothy Dix, the well-known New York writer, gives the following advice to parents: "I would urge everyone who is interested in science and discovery to see the Williamson Submarine Expedition pictures, and particularly I would urge all parents to make a point of taking their children to see it. Nothing educates like the eye, nothing makes a think so real as visualizing it, and any child will learn more physical geography in an hour from seeing these pictures than he would in a year's study. The public schools should include a visit to the Williamson Submarine Expedition pictures in their curriculum for this year. This remarkable motion picture, made by means of the Williamson submarine tube of the crystal depths of the ocean near the West Indies, will be the attraction at the Opera house today, Friday and Saturday. The performances will be at 2, 4, 7 and 9 p. m., accompanied by a special lecture.

ALMA GLUCK A TRUE PROPHETESS

In the autumn of 1913, when Alma Gluck returned from Europe, she startled the world of modistes by declaring that "American fashions were more sensible and truly more artistic than what emanated from Paris or Vienna." Now that war is raging on the continent of Europe, Paris is literally deserted, and Vienna is in such a state of excitement and privation that no one in those centers has any heart left for styles; hence the world of fashion will turn to New York and gladly will women (and men, too) copy what the new world dressmakers and designers outline in the way of gowns and hats. Little did Madame Gluck know when she expressed herself so forcibly last year that her predictions would become verified. In describing American fashions and what they stand for, Madame Gluck said:

"The American fashions make up what they lack in naughtiness by chic and gracefulness; New York fashions will yet lead the world." And now this is true.

Although Madame Gluck goes abroad every year, she prides herself upon buying all of her best gowns in America; and, as for hats, she would have none of the rakish-looking things that are turned out in gay Paree—now transformed into a city of suspense and sorrow.

Madame Gluck's tour for the season of 1914-1915 will be the most brilliant this singer has undertaken, she is to appear in many joint recitals with Efrem Zimbalist, the great Russian violinist, and will, as heretofore, give her own recitals in many cities. Madame Gluck is reputed to [illegible] superb voice, and has brought back to America with her some worth-while novelties.

ORGAN CONCERT BY JOHN DOANE, JR.

The Colorado Springs Musical club has taken advantage of Mr. Doane's passing through on his way to give recitals at the Panama-Pacific exposition, to get him to stop off for one recital at Perkins hall next Monday evening.

Organ concerts are less often given than recitals on other instruments, due perhaps to the [illegible] of a good organ and available recitalist, but in Colorado Springs this combination is found at Perkins hall, and it is likely that with the beauties of fine recital playing better understood, as this concert will make them, the organ recitals will become more frequent.

Told That There Was No Cure for Him.

"After suffering for over twenty years with indigestion and having some of the best doctors here tell me there was no cure for me, I think it only right to tell you for the sake of other sufferers as well as your own satisfaction that a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets not only relieved me but cured me within two months although I am a man of 85 years," writes Jul. PARK COMMISSION SHOWS EXPENDITURES FOR YEAR

Board Pays Out $34,000, Third of Which Is for Keeping Parks in Repair

The expenditures of the Colorado Springs park commission during 1914 were $34,041.86, of which amount $11,685.55 was spent for maintenance, according to the annual reports filed yesterday. The department's total receipts were $36,518.16 and construction work costing $1,098.02 was done. The report of Superintendent J. B. Lang shows that 1,750 perennial and annual flowers and 1,500 trees and shrubs of different varieties were planted and transplanted in the several parks.

The amount expended was distributed as follows: Monument Valley park, $1,317.27; North park, $922.59; Antlers park, $259.49; Cascade avenue, $528.90; North Cheyenne canon, $1,812.82; High drive, $307.38; Dorchester park, $253.09; Garden of the Gods, $459.41; Wood avenue, $66.88; Nevada avenue, $672.92; Palmer park, $105.61; Palmer pioneer, $15.87; Palmer boulevard, $18.50; Lincoln Highway, $109.21; Manitou boulevard, $5.50; Boulder reservoir, $75.50. The appropriation for the public comfort station in North park was $8,000, and the cost of the structure was $7,650.06.

The report of President D. V. Donaldson of the commission is as follows:

Gentlemen: Herewith, please find the annual report of the park commission of the city of Colorado Springs for the year 1914.

The attention of your honorable body is called to the nature of the improvements referred to in the superintendent's report.

You will note that the old wooden steps at the West View place and Bijou street entrance, which were in constant need of repairs, have been replaced with concrete and cement, and that a large section of the water mains which supplied the Valley Park irrigating system, which had been a source of trouble and expense on account of the numerous leaks, have been encased in cement and should require no further attention.

The new brick and concrete comfort station and band stand in Acacia park replaces an old wooden structure, which was very unsatisfactory, and in addition provides a handsome and permanent band stand.

To Build New Bridges.

A start has already been made to replace the wooden bridges in North canon, which annually required repairs at considerable expense. One bridge has been constructed of stone and concrete, and three others of same material will be built before the summer visitors begin to arrive.

Plans are now under way for an appropriate building in the Garden of the Gods to replace the old frame building.

The contemplated building in the Garden of the Gods, like the other improvements above, will be of a permanent nature, and will require no expense in the way of repairs, paint, etc., in the near future. In fact, it is the policy of the park commission to make only improvements that are absolutely necessary and these as permanent as possible.

The building in the Garden of the Gods should be one of the most profitable concessions granted by the park commission, as it is expected that the rental from the building will be ample to take care of the entire maintenance, expense of the roadways and improvements in the Garden.

Plans have also been made for a shelter in Monument Valley park, in the vicinity of the lake No. 1 and playgrounds. This shelter also will be constructed of concrete or material that will be permanent and lasting.

During the past year more transplanting has been done than for several years, and arrangements are now being made to restock the nursery with the shrubbery and plants which have been found to be the most desirable for this locality. In addition, there will be set out about 5,000 evergreens, which have been donated by the government nurseries.

Concessions.

Application is on file for concessions in Valley park which will be considered when the new shelter is completed. It is the aim of the park commission to secure concessions that will not only add to the interest and comfort of visitors, but will also add to the revenues, and in a measure, make up for the Palmer appropriation which will soon run out.

The Circle drive, which was started late last year, will be finished before the tourist season opens. Most of the work upon the above drive was done by the county commissioners, who have kindly cooperated with the park commission in its efforts to add this link to the proposed Circle drive.

Branch roads to the curious rock formations in Palmer park will be constructed as soon as the weather permits, thereby adding additional attractions to that part of the park system.

Plans have been made for reducing the grade on the Broadmoor road approaching the canons.

A movement by some of the public spirited citizens of Colorado Springs is on foot to convert one of the lakes in Monument Valley park into a swimming pool. Plans for the proposed pool are to be submitted to the park commission at their next meeting.

It is extremely gratifying to the park commissioners that the parks are attracting much more attention from the citizens than formerly.

The number of residents who visit Monument Valley park, North canon and the Garden of the Gods is constantly increasing and evidences of their appreciation of these beautiful spots are more frequent than ever before.

MANUFACTURER PREDICTS GREAT PROSPERITY SOON

Walter Nathan of Cleveland Says United States Is Rapidly Overcoming War Handicap

Business interests in the United States are facing an era of prosperity that will astonish the people, according to Walter Nathan, a big manufacturer of Cleveland, O. Mr. Nathan is at the Antlers hotel for a short visit here on his way back from a trip to California. He is a brother-in-law of M. J. Mandlebaum, also of Cleveland, who is well known here.

The era of prosperity already has started, thinks Mr. Nathan, and a great part of it is due to the European war, which has turned the channels of manufacturing in this direction.

"The American people are now dependent upon home products," he said. "The manufacturer is over his war scare and the feeling that the government would try and meddle with the situation; the consumer is willing to buy more and the retail men eager to sell.

"The prospect for a bright future is good, that is if the government keeps its fingers out of the pie." Mr. Nathan feels that the government is responsible for a great deal of the former upset in business conditions.

The retail dealers in America have increased their sales from 10 to 40 per cent since the first of the month, according to Mr. Nathan, and the new era of prosperity began about January 15. "The people do not recognize the full import of this change," he said, "but perhaps we manufacturers see it more clearly. Business is settling and I don't think the dealt [illegible] method which Germany and England are using will have any great effect on us."

The rush to the expositions has not begun, according to Mr. Nathan, who said that only the usual winter crowd was at present in San Francisco.

TERROR BASEBALL OUTLOOK UNCERTAIN

Players Want Erps as Coach; 25 Candidates to Get Out in Few Days

With five veterans eligible but without the services of Forrest Deal and "Whack" Schneider, veteran pitcher and shortstop respectively, the Terror baseball prospects for this spring are not as rosy as last year. Last year the locals won the southern Colorado title largely through Deal's pitching and Schneider's speedy base running, but more especially the latter. This year both holes will have to be filled.

Negotiations are now in progress to secure J. W. Erps as coach for the nine. Mr. Erps not only being a most popular athlete with the boys, but a baseball expert. The school board has the matter under consideration, and it is believed that they will arrange for Erps with a coach. Washburn field will be used for practice early in the afternoons, before the college pastimers get on the diamond.

The flinging ability of the team so far looks like three-youths, all of whom are pretty green in the box. These are Shipper, McDaniel and Johnson. For catchers there are Laird and Bates. Mel Graham and Howard Vangin are probable shortstops and second base, respectively, while third and first are not yet filled. In the outfield "Hink" Barnes will be in left, his favorite position. The greater part of the new timber is pretty young, as Captain Barnes puts it. As soon as the weather permits the players will get out for practice.

"POLL" PERRITT SIGNS WITH GIANTS; ROW IS ON

Federal Player Hooked Up by McGraw and Outlaw Magnates Will Again Go to Courts

MARLIN, Tex., March 3.—W. D. Perritt, former St. Louis pitcher, who today reported to the training camp of the New York Nationals, asserted tonight that he had returned to the Pittsburg club every penny of the salary advanced him, and that he is under no obligation to the Federals. The pitcher's New York contract runs for two years.

Larry McLean and Davis Robertson were additional Giant arrivals today. There are now 44 players in camp.

It was rumored tonight that Miller Huggins, manager of the St. Louis Nationals, will arrive in Marlin a few days, and that he has designs on Outfielder Robertson in a claim of equity for Perritt.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Federal league officials, discussing today the reported signing by the New York Nationals of W. D. (Pol) Perritt, former St. Louis pitcher, said the case, following upon the Jimmy Austin, Ivy Wingo, Walter Johnson and other incidents of a like nature, presaged a general renewal of the baseball war. Perritt some time ago announced that he had signed a Federal league contract.

"The Federal league has a war fund of $100,000," said Charles Weeghman, president of the Chicago Federals. "It was to be used only for emergency. That emergency seems to be upon us."

Threats of further legal complications were seen in a statement tonight by James A. Gilmore, president of the Federal baseball league.

"I am greatly surprised that organized baseball should have induced our players to break their contracts when our suit is pending in the United States court," he said. "The players referred to who have been induced by them to break their contracts with us since the hearing are Austin and Perritt. Caldwell and Wingo were taken after the complaint was filed."

MARLIN, Tex., March 3.—W. D. Perritt, the pitcher secured by Manager John McGraw from St. Louis, arrived today for training with the New York Nationals.

WAGNER A HAS-BEEN? SIGNS $10,000 YEAR CONTRACT

Veteran Pirate Shortstop Puts Name to Sixteenth Contract With Pittsburg Club

PITTSBURG, March 3.—Honus Wagner, the veteran shortstop, signed his 1915 contract with the Pittsburg National league baseball club here today. The contract, which calls for $10,000 per year, was the sixteenth he has made with the local club.

Twenty-five Pirates will leave here Saturday night for Dawson, Ky., where spring training will begin.

Internationals Deny That O. B. Is Giving Them $50,000 Fund

NEW YORK, March 3.—Statements made last night in quarters identified with major league baseball that the National and American leagues had put $50,000 at the disposal of the International league as a fund to help it out of its troubles brought about by Federal league invasions of its territory, were denied in a statement given out at International headquarters here tonight.

No comment was made on the other features of the report of last night, that assurances of help from the big leagues had been received by the International and that aid would in part take the shape of payment of portions of the salaries of players sent by American and National league clubs to the International league.

Two-Dollar Ball Would Mean Bankruptcy

Proposed Plan Best Way to Kill the Game

The baseball magnates would go into bankruptcy in a month if they attempted to put into force the $2 admission price that Joe Lannin, owner of the Red Sox, predicted in case the baseball war continued.

A $2 admission price would be equivalent to a holdup. The fans wouldn't stand for it, not for a single day. The magnates right now tax the fans a mighty stiff price and any attempt to boost it would mean a boycott of the ball parks.

Lannin, if quoted correctly, seems to have the idea that the fans ought to be forced to pay for the cost of warfare that is the fault of the magnates only. Such an idea is absurd in the extreme.

If the organized baseball magnates are suffering such heavy losses because of this warfare, it's about time for them to make peace—and make it in a hurry. Just because they are too bullheaded to patch up a truce with the Feds is no reason why the fans should suffer, and the fans won't.

The scale of prices at the big-league parks, if changed at all, should be downward—not upward. The usual range of prices is from 50 cents to $1.25. Some of those 50-cent seats are not worth the price. They are too far removed from the central scene of action.

Some years ago, most of the parks in the country had from 3,000 to 7,000 25-cent seats. But the magnates, in recent years became greedy. They reduced the 25-cent area to the lowest possible minimum and now are selling many of the oldtime 25-cent seats for double the former price.

A revolution will come some day in baseball and when it does the admission to the big league parks will be decreased. The $1 and $1.25 seats will be a thing of the past. The best seats will be had for 50 or 75 cents and there will be thousands of 25-cent seats where there are only hundreds now. And some of those 25-cent seats will be the seats that command 75 cents now.

The reduction will come when the magnates get together and decide to pay a ball player in proportion to his worth—about $3,000 a year for the greatest stars and from $1,000 to $2,000 for ordinary ball players who are now drawing down wartime salaries that range from $3,000 to $8,000 a year.

Walter Johnson, who probably couldn't earn more than $1,800 or $2,000 in 12 months' work of eight hours a day at any other occupation, gets from $12,500 to $15,000 for working about 80 hours—10 full working days—in a year. And the "work" that he does is health-giving work and the kind of "work" that is play for the rank and file of civilians.

It's the fans who pay Johnson, Mathewson, Cobb, Speaker, Collins and the others the big salaries that they get for the little "work" that they do. They've paid it for years without protest, but the remarks of Lannin about boosting the price to $2 changes the aspect of things.

The fans are beginning to conclude that the salaries that they (the fans) pay to ball players is all out of proportion to the worth of those ball players and some of these days they will balk at the prices. And then the magnates will have to use the pruning knife on their salary lists and pay the ball players a good living wage not a millionaire's ransom.

BOXING CAREER OF WOLGAST AT AN END

Little Hope for Recovery From Badly Broken Arm

Ad Wolgast, the former lightweight champion of the world, and one of the greatest fighters of the slugging type who ever drew on a glove, has probably heard the long roll beaten over his ring career. The physicians who examined his broken arm last week declared that it would be months before Ad would be able to remove the plaster cast, and held out little hope of his ever recovering his effectiveness.

When Wolgast lays aside his togs for all time, the ring will lose one of its most picturesque fighters. Wolgast's misfortunes were of a physical rather than of a financial nature. He has amassed a fortune which has been estimated at $200,000.

Had Wolgast been able to avoid injury and sickness he might have gone on until he rivaled Croesus. Unfortunately for him, he was not. His power began to wane shortly after he was stricken with appendicitis. Willie Ritchie stripped him of his championship laurels in 1912, and Wolgast never managed to come back.

His chain of misfortunes started in 1906, when his left ear was cauliflowered, but since this came under the head of work, he made no especial complaint. A year later, however, his right ear was spread all over the side of his head, and he began to grumble. The jinx swung into its full cry in 1908, when he broke both hands and knocked the knuckle of his right index finger out of joint, necessitating a prolonged layoff.

That, in itself, was bad enough, but he had just reentered the ring when he had his nose broken. An operation was performed before Ad got back into the game. Breaking bones became quite a fad with Wolgast by the time 1910 rolled around, for he splintered his right arm in a match with Jack Redmond and repeated the little "stunt" in a subsequent contest with Tommy McFarland.

The most serious of all Wolgast's misfortunes befell him on the eve of Thanksgiving day, 1911, when he was matched to fight Freddie Welsh for the lightweight championship. At 2 o'clock in the morning he was taken down with appendicitis. He did not enter the ring again until May, 1912, when he went along easily. After boxing a couple of short bouts he met Joe Rivers, whom he defeated in 13 rounds. He then went back to the short bout game until he engaged Willie Ritchie for the championship.

How the San Franciscan defeated him is well known. But losing the championship did not lose Wolgast the jinx. He broke both hands later in 1912. In 1913 he almost died as a result of an attack of ptomaine poisoning, and, in addition to that, he had two of his ribs crushed in a match with a sparring partner.

It is a matter of common knowledge among those who follow the boxing game that there is little love lost between Rivers and Wolgast. Last year they were matched to box out on the Pacific coast, but, still pursued by the hoodoo, Al splintered a bone in his left wrist and the bout was off. He hurt his hand before he met Ritchie in Milwaukee last year and broke his right arm on Freddie Welsh.

Freddie Welsh, who fought Charley White in Milwaukee Thursday night, is credited with saying that just as soon as his engagement with Willie Ritchie has been kept he will be ready to face any of the best lightweights in the world over the 20-round route to a decision. He has said, too, that he will fight Jack Britton, providing that that Chicago warrior will make the weight for him.

MANY LEADERS HAVE BEEN YALE STARS

Ex-Presidents and Sons on Star New Haven Teams; Rockefeller an Oar

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 3.—Charlie Taft and Newell Garfield, respectively son and grandson of former presidents of the United States, have made good as candidates for the basketball team and will be kept on the team all the season.

They are by no means the only sons or grandsons of prominent Americans in Yale athletics. Edward Roland Harriman, son of the late Edward H. Harriman, has been on one of the three varsity crew squads all the fall and gives promise of being one of the members of the varsity eight when Yale meets several Harvard crews in June in the main Eli regatta of the season.

Rockefeller on Crew.

Another member of a prominent American family who is in line for a place on a Yale athletic team is William Avery Rockefeller, son of William Rockefeller, of the class of '92, and grandson of William Rockefeller, the Standard Oil and railroad magnate. He rowed on the Yale freshman crew last fall and seems certain to make the regular 1918 boat in its races of the coming season.

Taft and Garfield were schoolmates before they came to Yale. They prepared at the Taft school, Watertown, Conn., where Horace Taft, brother of ex-President Taft, is principal. Both were on the Taft basketball team for two seasons. Both are exceptionally tall. Taft is used at guard, Garfield at center. Garfield played in only five games of the Christmas trip, but Taft was in every one. Bobby Stow, the Yale coach, calls him a genuine find. They are freshmen.

Harriman Also Oarsman.

Harriman had three years of rowing at the Groton school. He rowed on the Yale freshmen crew last year.

Yale, it is believed, has had more scions of prominent American families among its athletes than any other university. Ex-President Taft rowed in his class crew while at Yale, as did William C. Whitney, Cleveland's secretary of the navy. Whitney's son, Payne Whitney, rowed for three years on Yale's crews and captained the varsity eight as a senior in 1898-01. His [illegible] crew.

Best and 5 Biggest

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, March 3.—For want of some more specific reason, Wall street was disposed to attribute today's further rise in stocks to Berlin's acceptance of Washington's proposals regarding the regulation of this country's exports to Europe. At any rate, the market, which opened with some irregularity, soon became strong, with unusually large number of material net gains.

Trading was more diversified than in recent days, but speculative favorites led the movement throughout United States Steel, Reading, and the season dividend payers contributing over 40 per cent of the whole. Specialties moved in contrary fashion. This was exemplified in a 20-point rise in General Chemical and an 18-point decline in Harvester corporation, preferred.

The strength of steel and allied shares was accounted for by the February record of the trade. The instability of the copper markets was reflected in a sharp break in London.

Long-time money was easier, half-year loans being made at 3½ per cent and call loans were made at the surprising low rate of 1¼ per cent. Among the numerous railway returns for January, New Haven reported a net increase of $607,000; Boston & Maine, $264,000, and Northern Pacific a very slight increase. Reading lost $325,000 and Louisville & Nashville $165,000. Missouri Pacific issues showed especial strength.

Total sales, par value, were $2,860,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, March 3.—Although wheat advanced most of the time today on account of liberal export sales, the market at the close was weak, owing to assertions that the entire Argentine surplus for 1916 had been purchased by Great Britain. Grains were narrowed to 1⅝@2c, compared with last night's level. Corn finished 1⅛@1¼@⅝c up, and oats at a rise of 1⅛c. In provisions the outcome varied from a loss of 5c to a like upturn.

Word of the supposed huge transfer of Argentine wheat was not verified, but received enough credence to bring about extensive profit taking by longs in the last half hour of the session.

European buying of cash wheat in the United States today was estimated at 1,000,000 bushels. The amounts taken at Chicago and Kansas City brought relatively the highest premiums yet as compared with the current price of the May delivery. In every direction domestic country offerings proved small.

Corn showed strength throughout the day, yielding only a little when wheat turned weak. Fresh export sales of 200,000 bushels at the seaboard had much to do with giving prices a lift and so also did a noticeable falling off in Chicago receipts. European demand for oats appeared to be as urgent as ever. Chicago handlers were known to have sold 500,000 bushels to the seaboard.

Despite some liquidating sales early in provisions, the market wound up firm. On the decline, shorts and investors took hold quite freely.

AN ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE CONCERNING ELECTIONS.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF COLORADO SPRINGS:

Section 1. That until otherwise provided by ordinance the election precincts of said City of Colorado Springs shall be as designated by the proper authorities acting under the laws of the State of Colorado, in so far as such precincts may be within the corporate limits of such City.

Section 2. The City Clerk shall, on or before the 11th day of March of each year in which a general city election is to be held, appoint three qualified electors to act as judges and two qualified electors to act as clerks of elections in each election precinct for the term of two years thereafter and until their successors are appointed.

Each such judge or clerk shall be a bona fide resident of the precinct for which he or she is appointed, and shall be properly qualified to so act. The City Clerk shall ascertain whether or not such judges and clerks are competent to perform their duties, and may require the persons appointed as judges and clerks to demonstrate their ability to write plainly and legibly. Such appointment shall be made in writing and shall be reported to the first meeting of the City Council of said City held thereafter, and for good cause the Council may remove any judge or clerk so appointed and direct the City Clerk to substitute another therefor.

In case of any vacancy in the office of judge or clerk of election, such vacancy shall be filled by the City Clerk, provided that in case of a vacancy in such office at any time when said judges or said clerks meet according to law, the vacancy shall be filled as provided by the laws of the State of Colorado.

Section 3. The election judges and clerks shall take the oath in the form and manner and before the officer or officers authorized to administer same, as provided by the laws of the State of Colorado.

Section 4. The City Clerk shall, on or before ten days before each election, or special election to be held in said City, provide a proper polling place and for polling booths therein in each precinct in said City. The judges of election may change such polling place for the reasons and in the manner provided by the general election laws of the State of Colorado.

Section 5. The first two judges appointed by the Clerk in each precinct shall constitute the registration committee.

Section 6. Such election judges and clerks shall have the powers, rights and privileges and shall perform the duties, all as provided by the laws of the State of Colorado.

Section 7. Judges of election shall be paid at the rate of four dollars per day; and clerks of election at the rate of three dollars per day for each day necessarily served by them in the performance of their duties, including the duties of the judges when acting as the registration committee; provided that for all time necessarily served after 8 o'clock P. M. of an election day in the performance of their duties such judges and clerks shall be paid at the rate of thirty cents per hour. The judges shall certify to the City Clerk immediately after their work the time each judge or clerk was so necessarily employed. For returning the ballot boxes to the City Clerk there shall be paid the sum of fifty cents to the judges making such return.

Section 8. Except as is provided in the Charter and ordinances of said City, the provisions of any State law now or hereafter in force so far as same may be applicable shall govern all municipal elections, and in addition to the penalties provided by such State laws, any judge or clerk violating any provision of said Charter or of this ordinance shall be fined in a sum not exceeding $300.00 for each offense.

Section 9. This ordinance shall be in force and take effect ten days after its final passage as provided in the charter.

Passed March 3, 1915.

CHARLES L. McKESSON,
President of the Council.

ATTEST: CHAS. CHAPMAN,
City Clerk.

Approved: March 3, 1915.

CHARLES L. McKESSON,
SEAL. Mayor.

I HEREBY CERTIFY, That the foregoing Ordinance entitled "AN ORDINANCE CONCERNING ELECTIONS," was introduced and read at a regular meeting of the City Council, held on February 19, 1915. That said Ordinance was passed at a regular meeting of the City Council of said City, held on the 3rd day of March, 1915, and the same was published in full in the Colorado Springs Gazette, a newspaper published and in general circulation in said City, at least ten days before its passage.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the City this 3rd day of March, A. D. 1915.

CHAS. CHAPMAN,
SEAL. City Clerk.

NOTICE OF EXAMINATION FOR MACHINIST—FIRE DEPARTMENT.

News of the Courts

The Colorado School for the Deaf and Blind has reported the theft of a large hog from its ranch east of Colorado Springs. The animal was killed before it was taken away.

Jack Quinn was given the alternative of leaving Colorado Springs or spending 250 days in jail yesterday by Police Magistrate Manning. He decided to leave and if he is found here again it will mean the serving out of fines amounting to $500. His arrests have been for drunkenness. Other fines were assessed in police court as follows: Shorty Edwards, drunk, $50 and costs; John Mitche, begging, $25 and costs; Frank Early, drunk, $50 and costs; F. Conway, drunk, $10 and costs.

A SKIN OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER
Dr. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S
Oriental Cream
OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

Removes Tan, Pimples, Freckles, Moth Patches, Rash and Skin Diseases, and every blemish on beauty, and defies detection. It has stood the test of 66 years, and is so harmless we taste it to be sure it is properly made. Accept no counterfeit of similar name. Dr. L. A. Sayre said to a lady of the hautton (a patient): "As you ladies will use them, I recommend 'Gouraud's Cream' as the least harmful of all the skin preparations." At Druggists and Department Stores.
